

PORT LUDLOW VOICE

HOOD CANAL BRIDGE UPDATE

By Ward Lawler

Only seven years left of its eight-year lifespan! (Deduced from Leader headline, Sept., 1997)

Any bridge report should consist of two parts: first, maintenance of the existing bridge and second, progress on the East Half replacement.

The barge, with crane, that has been on either side of the bridge for the past 2 to 3 months has finished its work under contract with the Department of Transportation (DOT). Six of the 44 underwater anchor cables have been replaced - two on the East and four on the West Half. These cable replacements were needed due to broken wires (which make up the cables) that were found by regular underwater inspections carried out by the DOT. This work was originally planned for last year but the bids came in too high to be done during the quiet weather season and had to be postponed until this year.

West End anchor facts: Installed during the reconstruction in 1982, there are 26 reinforced concrete cylinders, 46 feet in diameter and 29 feet in height, weighing from 750 to 1500 tons each, when filled with rock and iron ballast. They each have a groove & tunnel on the back, or far side from the bridge, to accept the cables, which loop around them. These 26 "buckets" are considered gravity anchors, meaning just their weight holds things in place, thus mooring the 12 new pontoons, one to the North and one to the South of each pontoon. The new cables are 3 inches in diameter, which is twice the diameter of the original (and East End) cables.

Replacing the cables consisted of loosening ("detensioning") and then removal from the pontoons the two ends of each anchor cable. The ends are transferred to winches on the barge, which reel in the cable as the barge moves toward the anchor. When near the anchor, one end of the new cable is fastened to the old and pulled through the tunnel in the back of the anchor. When enough of the new cable is pulled through the tunnel so that it is midway in its length, the barge reels out the two ends of the new cable as it moves back to the pontoon. The middle of the cable must be centered in the tunnel as each new cable is precut to an exact length - they vary tremendously depending on their location along the ridge due to depth of water and other factors. Divers were sent down to inspect the cable to make sure it was properly placed and centered, for if it was not, the cable ends would not be of equal length when reaching the pontoon. The new anchor cable was then reinstalled in the pontoons and tensioned to the proper load.

Also being done this year is rehabilitation of the lift-span hydraulic system, which is part of the newer, West Half as reported by Myint Lwin, the DOT bridge engineer in charge of planning and design for the new East Half section. Everything is on schedule. He expects to have a set of Plans, Specifications and Cost Estimate (PS&E) "on the shelf" by January 1999. The Olympic Region (of DOT) is doing the Origin and Destination Study of traffic over the bridge and it is this study which will determine the need for traffic mitigation during construction and how that mitigation will be handled. That study is not complete so there are no answers available as yet. Remember that DOT said only a six-week total shutdown is planned for emplacement of the new sections.

Of equal, if not greater, concern is the source of construction funding for the project. This is an area where we as users can have input and make an impact on those who will be making the decisions. Stay tuned.

Farewell From Tara

Now that I am leaving beautiful Port Ludlow, I would like to thank each and every one of you who made my six years' stay here so wonderful, enjoyable, and educational. Thank you again and goodbye. God Bless You All, Tara

New Tax Assessment Due

Jack Westerman III our county assessor spoke to the Lot Owners Association at their monthly meeting on September 10th and explained the assessment process. One point of interest to the group was the relationship of the tax base to the tax levy. Westerman pointed out that as Port Ludlow's tax base went up the levy rate would go down. He felt that when the resort build out was complete we would have a much higher base and consequently a lower levy.

Westerman also explained that the bulk of our taxes is because of increases that we have approved as voters. He stated that some areas of Port Ludlow could be evaluated downward and that those areas going up would not experience too much of an increase. A question and answer period followed his prepared remarks.

Bay Club Update

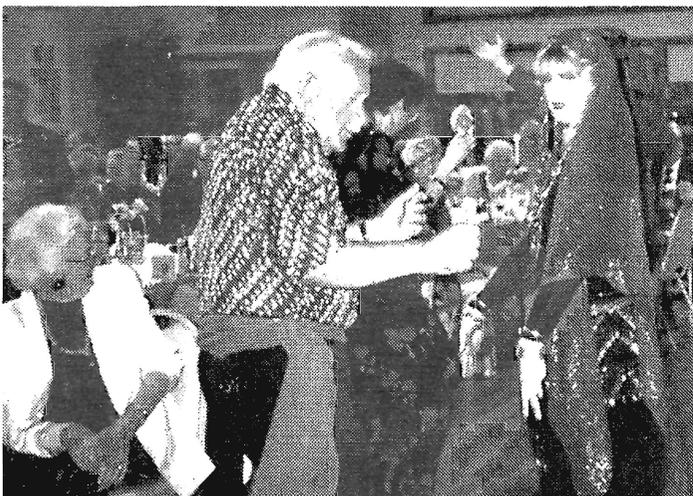

HATS OFF (AGAIN!)

TO OUR FREE SPIRITS COMMITTEE

for producing such a wonderful evening in the form of a "Mediterranean Dinner". Thanks to Nancy Green and her kitchen elves, the dinner was superb; thanks to Phoebe Ewaldsen and her helpers, the tables and decorations set the scene beautifully; thanks to Vince Pace and his strolling accordion (or was it Vince that was strolling?) his music set the "pace" for the evening; thanks to everyone else who lent a helping hand.

This Free Spirits event was one of the best, and the visiting dance group (Mosaic Middle Eastern Dance Ensemble) definitely added to the Mediterranean mystique. So ladies, have you been practicing?

Free Spirits Goblins and Ghosts

The Free Spirits will be holding its annual Halloween Party at the Bay Club on that magic night, Saturday, October 31st. The dinner theme will be a traditional American harvest feast. As always, we encourage participants to come in costume--either traditional or contemporary. One year we had no fewer than four Bob Doles!

There are now 270 members of the Free Spirits, limited to South Bay residents exclusively. Most of our events have a seating capacity of only 176, so in order not to be disappointed be sure to make your reservations as early as possible, since we do sell out. Remember, attendance is only for Free Spirits members and their houseguests (people who live outside Port Ludlow and are staying here temporarily as guests of a member). So, make your plans and reservations now, before the closing date of October 26th. The cost is $10 each for members and $15 for each houseguest.

New Kids On The Block

We have two new people on the team and are looking forward to working with them to build an even better club. Our new Office Manager is Sandra Spargo and our new Program Director, who has already made his presence known, is Art Clement. Rumor has it that he is responsible for the pictures, on page 4, of our cavorting members.

Sandra Spargo came from Eastern Oregon, where she completed her English degree. Before then, she worked for Alaska Airlines and lived in Alaska for 18 years. She has 20 years of office experience and is enthused about being a team member of the Bay Club staff.

Sandra and her husband have bought their retirement home in Poulsbo. She has two sons. Although most of her family lives in the Seattle area, she has one son who lives in California and another who lives in Alaska. She enjoys learning about the Peninsula community and wants to become an active community member. Welcome on board Sandra.

Art was born and raised in southern Idaho near Twin Falls. He joined the Navy and served in the Submarine force and Underwater Demolition Teams for twenty plus years. After he retired from the Navy, he and his family moved to the Puget Sound area. He then worked as a Project manager of Strategic Communications for the Navy until 1995.

He is married, has two children and two grandchildren. He and his family are avid travelers. Between them, they have been on each Continent, all Oceans, and nearly every Country. We are very pleased to also welcome Art on board.

SOUTH BAY COCKTAIL PARTY

Don't forget that it's the second Friday of every month. For October it's the 9th. If you'd like to bring hors d'oeuvres to share that would be great. If not, come anyway. Drinks are on the house.

North Bay will be invited to our Nov. cocktail party - see item elsewhere in the PLV.

Show and Share Faire

Oct. 16th at the Bay Club for all SBCA members. This Faire will hopefully represent all the Bay Club clubs and individuals who want to show other members what can be done. Clubs can have information available about their activities (e.g. Free Spirits, Potluckers, Explorer's Club, etc.) or your club or individual members can show or sell items that they have made. Also welcome are individuals with special interests who want to share those interests and possibly form their own clubs

Clubs and individuals need to sign up in the "Scheduled Activities" book at the front desk noting how many tables you want to reserve and who the contact person is for your group. Groups that have already committed to the Faire are the Quilters, Clay Class, Ikebana, Arts & Crafts, and Model Trains.

We look forward to many groups showing off their skills so other SBCA members can gain exposure to activities that are available here at the Bay Club. This Faire would be especially valuable to newcomers to the South Bay.

Live at the Ajax

Tucked away among abandoned buildings on Port Hadlock's original town-site is the Ajax Cafe, so named twenty years ago as a spoof on the "comet", an old wooden fishing boat that lay sinking in the bay out front. Boisterous and funky best describes the Ajax. On the Saturday evening this reviewer dined there, the "Reflections", a three man combo, performed "musical memories" of the 20's, 30's and 40's which had grandparents to babes-in-arms dancing among the tightly spaced tables and clamoring conversations. The service is brisk and unpretentious - nothing haughty here. Certain menu items consistently fare better than others. Among our group of regulars who have a tradition of sharing, the "winner" dishes include the filet mignon with cabernet sauce and the Jack Daniel's spiked Baby Back Ribs - each a charge of robust flavor. The peppercorn steak with cognac also falls into this category. Other dishes have not been so successful and have a tendency to be rather bland, including the Thai noodles with prawns or chicken that was supposed to be five star hot but was in fact one star, and the grilled or roasted salmon entrees that can be equally mild, (perhaps farmed fish is sometimes used). The grilled rare Ahi served with an Asian sweet and sour sauce is a favored fish selection offered on the new menu sheet. Fish entrees from the original menu that pair interesting flavors are the pan fried oysters with a Cajun remoulade sauce and the tiger

Arts and Entertainment

Barbara Wagner-Jauregg, Editor

This section will feature news on Port Ludlow art and entertainment events as well as a performing arts calendar of events for Jefferson, Clallam and Kitsap Counties. Please send calendar items to the editor by the 10th of the preceding month.

Accompanist Lisa Lanza; Soprano Gerry Hyatt Bergstrom; Guest artist Baritone J. Michael Koon and Mezzo-soprano, Sydney Keegan

Occasional Sunday Series Features Vocal Ensemble

The Arts Council's three-concert Occasional Sunday series opens with a musical salute to autumn on Sunday, October 25th, 3:00 p.m. at the Bay Club. Entitled "Last Leaves: Music for the Fall of the Year", the performance features the Flora Musica Ensemble with soprano Gerry Hyatt Bergstrom and mezzo-soprano Sydney Keegan, joined by guest artist baritone J. Michael Koon, and Lisa Lanza on the piano. The first half of the program will focus on art songs, followed by classical numbers and familiar songs from the Broadway theater.

In the past year and a half, Flora Musica has appeared at Trinity Parish Church in Seattle, at the Bloedel Reserve on Bainbridge Island, and in Port Townsend.

Gerry Bergstrom is well known in the Port Townsend area as a soloist, organist, and teacher of voice and piano. She is a music-education graduate of The University of Tulsa, and was for several years the conductor of the Port Townsend Community Chorus. Bergstrom has appeared as a soloist with the Port Angeles Symphony, the Bach Consort of Port Angeles, at Turtle Bluff and in Port Ludlow.

Sydney Keegan is also known for her work as a soloist, both locally and with the Port Angeles Symphony. She recently completed a Bachelor of Music in Vocal Performance and a Master of Arts in Music History at the University of Washington where she sang the parts of Caritas and Verecundia in the University's 1996 production of the Ordo Virtutum of Hildegard von Bingen.

J. Michael Koon earned a Bachelor of Music in Vocal Performance from the Peabody Institute of the Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, and a Master of Music in Vocal Performance from the Cincinnati College-Conservatory of Music. He has been featured with the Cincinnati, Baltimore, and Seattle Opera companies, and as a soloist in Bach's B Minor Mass and Mozart's Requiem. Among Koon's operatic credits is the role of Sharpless in Kitsap Opera's recent production of Madame Butterfly. He has also been chosen for the part of Figaro in Kitsap Opera's upcoming presentation of The Barber of Seville. Koon is on the voice faculty of Pierce College, Tacoma and teaches voice at Lake and Peninsula High Schools and at his Port Orchard home.

Lisa Lanza is an accomplished soloist and accompanist, appearing most recently in Port Ludlow last fall with our own Aletha (Lee) Barnes. She trained as a classical pianist and has played professionally for over 15 years as a soloist both here and abroad. Lanza's credits include the Seattle, Eugene, and Orange City Operas plus the Civic Light Opera in Seattle.

Occasional Sunday season tickets for the three-concert series are available at the Bay Club for $15.00. Individual tickets for the October 25 performance are $6.00.

Kaeshammer Wows Bay Club Audience

Not a foot was still when Michael Kaeshammer and his Trio performed their boogie-woogie piano stylings on Saturday, September 5th, at the Bay Club. The high-energy show by this exceptional young and creative musician was a complete sell-out and provided everything promised and much more. The 22-year old German-born virtuoso held the audience spellbound and is a sure candidate for a return engagement in the future.

Now touring again in Europe, Kaeshammer is bound to become a household name in jazz circles. His CD "Blue Keys" released on the Canadian jazz and blues label Pacific Music in early 1997 was snapped up by concert attendees.

Joining Kaeshammer were fellow Canadians Damian Graham on drums and Clinton Ryder on bass.

Broadway Goes Hollywood

Rehearsals are well underway for the 1998 annual Port Ludlow revue scheduled for a three-day run, November 6th, 7th and 8th, at the Bay Club. Co-directors Gary McCurdy and Peggy Smith will present a rollicking glimpse of Hollywood beginning with the days of silent movies right up to the present day. The show will include dance numbers by the Rockettes and Steppin' Out groups as well as vocal selections by the Showtime Chorus. In addition, word has it to expect surprise visits from such Hollywood favorites as Lauren Bacall, Humphrey Bogart, Charlie Chaplin, Gary Cooper, Nelson Eddy, W. C. Fields, Judy Garland, Jeanette McDonald, Shirley Temple, John Wayne and Mae West, to name a few.

The Friday and Saturday performances on November 6th and 7th begin at 7:30 p.m., with a matinee on Sunday, November 8th, set for 2:00 p.m. Advance tickets are suggested and are available beginning October 1st at both the Bay Club and Beach Club.

“Customer Appreciation Night” a Big Band Event

When the summer shadows start to lengthen and the nip of fall is in the air it is time to think about ... a Big Party! And we're doing it! The marina staff is throwing a party for our customers and friends with music and dancing, food and good times, and how better to do that than hire a band, a big band!

On Saturday night, October 17th at the Bay Club, the Marina staff is inviting all our permanent moorage customers to our annual "thank you" event, our Customer Appreciation Night extravaganza. Beginning at 7 p.m. we are hosting the Buzz Whitely Big Band for an evening of music from the Swing Era and beyond. The twenty-piece band from Poulsbo played for us last year and the feedback was such that we asked them to do it again. They agreed and we are delighted to present the band once again as our token of appreciation for all our great customers and friends.

Spend the evening with us listening and dancing to the music of Benny Goodman, Harry James, Count Basie and other greats from the 40's and 50's. Hors d'oeuvres, coffee and soft drinks will be provided and a no-host bar, will be available.

The Big Band Customer Appreciation Night party will bring to a close another great boating season and the marina staff is inviting all our permanent moorage customers to celebrate the year. Circle the 17th of October on the calendar, get out your dancing shoes and be at the Bay Club by 7 p.m.

And thank you, for mooring your boat at the marina.

If the marina staff is looking a bit glassy eyed this month it is because they just completed the busiest Summer season the marina ever had. And they did it with a Labor Day Weekend that kept them hopping for four straight days. We welcomed the Catalina Cruisers, the Monk Club and the boater friends of Chris Heide at the Chris Heide Invitational, plus a raft of all the individual boaters that we could fit on the docks.

Saturday night at the fire pit we built a bon fire and hosted the Poulsbo band, "Never Been to Utah". The group played rock, blues and reggae tunes to a cheering audience. The band, all teachers in the North Kitsap School District, had our Labor Day guests singing along with the oldies, clapping and dancing to brand new tunes and generally celebrating the end of summer.

Earlier that day, and on Sunday morning, the marina hosted keyboardist Don Olson playing contemporary jazz in the Popham shelter. Later we presented the banjo picking of Larry Macu playing old favorites. What a way to end the summer... lots of friends and lots of music.

Next season the Marina hopes to have more opportunities to present these kinds of special events and activities. Music and the waterfront just seem to go together and we are looking for ways to bring the two together more often.

Finally, this year has turned out to be the one of the marina's best summers ever. With some 235 boats in the marina on a permanent basis we find ourselves at essentially 100% of our capacity, During the Labor Day Weekend, and for each of the three weekends prior, we were in the unusual position of having to turn away guest boaters each weekend. We just didn't have the space to accommodate all the boaters who wanted to visit our beautiful part of the Sound.

Part of this success is due to our marketing efforts at the Boat Shows and other places but a summer survey told us that 76% of our guests were recent visitors who came back because they enjoyed their previous visit. The survey also told us that our visitors appreciated the marina's outgoing and helpful staff. So, to the summer staff, thanks for helping to make a great season possible. Dani, Nate, Josh and Mikiya, you were terrific. To the year round staff, Kori, Ginger and Jay, thanks for being The Team. You made a great year possible.

prawns with pesto and asiago cheese. Inquire about the nightly specials, especially the soups which vary daily with the seasons or with chef/owner Tom's gustatory whims and which can often accommodate as a vegetarian meal when accompanied by an Ajax "Caesar" salad. We think the soups are among the best offerings at the Ajax. A recent curried silken corn bisque was golden.

Wine selections are printed "on" a three liter bottle placed mid table; but this bottle is empty and you will want to order your own from a moderately priced selection of north-west reds and whites - or you may bring your own reserve to accompany your meal.

If you are anticipating an intimate evening of private conversation in serene surroundings the Ajax is not the place to go. The cafe has the atmosphere of a communal gathering where diners change character with the trade of a hat (choose yours from an array decorating the ladies room wall or wear your own) and business cards are exchanged by evening's end.

Overall, we are fortunate to have the Ajax Cafe a leisurely fifteen minute drive north of port Ludlow. Reserve deck seating on a summer's evening and watch the sunset glimmer off Marrowstone Island or fourth of July fireworks after dark. Cozy up with good friends and sing-along music on cooler winter nights.

For food and service - two stars, for the very reasonable prices and for all the fun - add another half star.

Port Ludlow Book Club

Wallace Stegner's CROSSING TO SAFETY will be the topic of discussion at the October meeting. One of Stegner's last books, it is a story about a long friendship between two couples with probing insights into their marriages.

Join us at 7:00 P.M. Tuesday, October 13 at the Bay Club. All Port Ludlow residents are welcome. Call Lois Daley at 437 0748 for more information.

Tacoma Narrows Transportation Corridor Proposals

"SPANN" Safe Passage Across the Narrows Now Campaign

By Sally Smith

Why: For Port Ludlow, Jefferson County and the Olympic Peninsula

The Tacoma Narrows Bridge Proposal and Referendum 49, which includes the SR16 transportation upgrade and expansion, will be on the November 3, 1998 General Election ballot. The Tacoma Narrows Bridge advisory vote will gauge whether the public supports or opposes paying for the improvements with an estimated round trip toll of $3. Jefferson County voters have been included in the advisory voting boundary because Department of Transportation studies have concluded that of the 86,000 vehicles crossing the Tacoma Narrows Bridge daily, 5% or 4,300, originated from or are destined to Jefferson County and the Olympic Peninsula. The main goal of "SPANN", the Safe Passage Across the Narrows Now campaign, is to substantially improve the capacity, the safety, and the reliability of the Narrows transportation corridor. The bridge is the gateway to the west sound and a multi-county population base dependent upon a single major route that becomes part of the rural transportation infrastructure to Jefferson County and the Olympic Peninsula.

The Narrows Bridge impacts access to employment, personal travel and recreation, the transportation of commodities, tourism, an increasing number of outside business travelers to the region, and emergency medical transfers. The Bridge issues transcend mere inconvenience for commuters; they range from lifestyles and life-safety to national defense and growth management. An investment in efficient transportation infrastructure is an important component of a productive, diverse and competitive economy. The cost of doing business in the West Sound and Olympic Peninsula regions would be lowered, new businesses and services would be attracted that would create more employment opportunities, and consumer needs would be met locally that would be an incentive to shop closer to home. Finally, the tourism industry and the turnover of new money it draws into and circulates within a region would be sustained and enhanced.

The Bridge projects and improvements would be built under a public/private partnership agreement designed to fund major transportation projects through access to private money. The project would be turned over to the state upon completion and the private company would be allowed to recover the construction costs through an estimated $3 round trip toll. The continuation and preservation of this concept for mega-infrastructures could be used for projects closer to Jefferson County, such as a toll-based private road initiative for the Hood Canal Bridge.

The Tacoma Narrows corridor is the lifeline for access to all of west sound counties and especially to the remote Olympic Peninsula. Residents can become educated and actively involved in the effort to insure the Narrows corridor is upgraded and expanded to provide affordable mobility for all who depend upon it. The county voters have been given the opportunity to influence in whatever way they can, in whatever way the people choose, what happens in the Narrows Transportation Corridor. The final decision to proceed, or not, depending upon the outcome of the advisory vote, will be made by the Department of Transportation Secretary, who has stated he will follow the mandate of the electorate.

Next month: The Narrows Bridge/Corridor campaign issue election facts at a glance.

TIDE TIMBER TRAIL

Dog Notes (Director of Golf) By Mike Buss

The leaves are starting to turn, a sweater feels better in the morning and the wildflowers are starting to die; it must mean it's fall. We still have a lot of good golfing weather left and a number of good events to participate in, please check your calendar and sign up early.

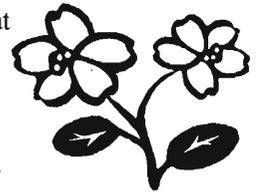

During our last greens committee meeting a question was raised about our flower bed local rule. What determines a free drop and what does not? This was not the first time we have been asked this question; it seems once a year I have been asked, that is until this year. We went through a three-week period where that question was asked at least 40 times. It was never determined whether or not it was just one incident that a lot of people were talking about, or if it was happening on a daily basis with a number of members.

In my mind it was pretty clear that anything maintained, barked or planted with flowers was a free relief situation, so I decided to clear this whole situation up by touring the course and documenting what areas would be included in the local flowerbed rule. After a few holes I realized it was a bigger task than I had anticipated, there were way to many gray areas. The obvious ones were easy, we all know them, what about that big stump, to the left side of Timber #6, you know the one with the roots facing the tee. Guess what? There are two little flowers growing at the bottom of it, so is this a flowerbed? It was not in our maintenance plans for this year, maybe in past years. Does a flock of dandelions make up a wildflower bed?

It was suggested that all areas we determine to be flowerbeds should have posted signs in front of them, "Flowerbed, please take relief", or something to that effect. What do you think?

Flowerbed Rule Contest

We need help in determining what our flowerbed relief policy should be. The greens committee will award a $ 100 gift certificate to the member that submits the written policy that we will adopt as our local rule. Please turn all entries into the golf shop no later than October 15th.

Good luck.

ORM Update By Greg McCarry

ORM UPDATE ON COMPREHENSIVE PLAN

On August 28th, 1998 Jefferson County adopted a Comprehensive Plan as required by Washington State's Growth Management Act. The Plan has designated Port Ludlow as a "Master Planned Resort". This designation allows for the development of a resort AND residential community. The next step in the public process will be to adopt zoning regulations which follow and are compatible with the Comprehensive Plan. Jefferson County Commissioners have expressed a desire to complete Port Ludlow's zoning regulations within 60 days. ORM is working closely with the Council of Ludlow Owner's Association (CLOA) on the effort. CLOA has endorsed language which has been forwarded to the County.

ORM UPDATE ON PLANNING FORUM

In August 1996 ORM launched the Port Ludlow Planning Forum. The mission of the Forum was to determine what sort of plan the residents of Port Ludlow could support for the completion of Port Ludlow. During the process completion became defined as 2,250 residential dwellings with a resort, appropriate recreational amenities and village commercial services. A goal of the Forum was to obtain a development agreement with Jefferson County which permitted the completion of a community supported plan for Port Ludlow.

The steps for County support of the plan include adoption of a Comprehensive Plan which designates Port Ludlow as a "Master Planned Resort", adoption of appropriate Zoning Regulations and the signing of a Development Agreement between Jefferson County and ORM. The County has designated the Master Planned Resort and CLOA has endorsed the proposed Zoning Regulations and Development Agreement. Although the latter 2 documents still need County action, the community issues raised during the Forum process have been largely adressed in a meeting of the minds between Port Ludlow residents and ORM.

Accordingly, it is time to bring the Forum to a close and pass a few remaining issues to CLOA.

In the near future ORM will organize and announce a final community meeting to summarize all the agreements, the plan and the outstanding issues in order to bring closure to the process. ORM will also share the revisions incorporated into a new resort plan based on community input. We are looking forward to sending out an announcement and meeting again. Thank you from ORM to the hundreds of participants and activists who shared concerns, ideas and facilitated solutions to the many issues.

Cookie Exchange

It is never too early to think about Christmas goodies so please mark your calendars for Tuesday, December 1st at 10:30 a.m. at the Bay Club. We are planning a cookie exchange and coffee morning. Be sure to pick your favorite recipe since six dozen cookies per person is the magic number of cookies you will need to bring packed in batches of 6. There will be a $5 charge to participate and enjoy refreshments. Any money left over after expenses have been paid will be donated either to the Food Bank or Carla's Caring Tree. More details will be provided in the next issue of the Port Ludlow Voice. If you have any questions please call Judy Smith 437 0759 or Maggie Brown 437 2176. Please plan to join us on the 1st of December.

Why Do They Do That?

Many public organizations, such as the hospital, use volunteers to help provide their services and to keep the expenses reasonable for the tax-paying public. Why is the Fire District so expensive to operate? In comparison, the hospital's estimated initial out of pocket expense is $200. The following is Fire District No.3's initial out of pocket expense for one New Volunteer Fire Fighter.

INITIAL EXPENSE FOR ALL NEW MEMBERS 1998

Turnout Firefighting Coat	$ 560.00
Turnout Firefighting Pant	340.00
Fire Fighter Gloves	30.00
Fire Fighter Nomex Hood	18.00
Fire Fighter Rubber Boots	75.00
Fire Fighter Helmet	125.00
Hose Strap	12.00

Health Screen	50.00
Criminal Background Check	10.00
Insurance	60.00
Training and Training Materials	425.00
TOTAL	$3,018.00

Staff time has not been calculated in this comparison.

Candidates Wanted

The Port Ludlow Lot Owners Association is looking for six good people who will volunteer to be candidates for the Lot Owners Association and the Ludlow Maintenance Commission.

Applicants must be members in good standing of the LMC. We are particularly looking for some young people and for some women to balance our board. We are attempting to give the voters a choice and would prefer to give them a slate of candidates to choose from rather than just the candidates nominated by the board.

Each year the LOA board nominates two candidates to the LMC. It is possible to be on both boards if selected. We would like to hear from you if you have any interest.

Any questions call Ralph Thomas at 437-4069.

Classified Advertising

The Voice will begin printing classified ads for our residents starting next month. In an effort to give you what you want in your paper the staff has heard from you and they have learned that you want a way to offer or obtain services within the Village. They have also heard that you would like a way to sell personal items or inquire about things you might want to acquire.

We are devoting a page to this service and will have to charge a modest sum for the space. Your ads will cost seven cents a word with a three dollar minimum. This will amount to about 40 words per ad at the minimum..

We are offering this service to residents only and we are limiting the ads to requests for, and offers of services, and the sale of personal items. We do not want to compete with any professional business nor do we want to jeopardize our not for profit status. We apologize if we must occasionally reject an ad because of these two concerns. We anticipate having the following headings:

- For Sale
- Wanted
- Services Offered
- Services Wanted
