We'll Go Forward From This Moment

by Leonard Pitts Jr. of the Miami Herald, reprinted with permission.

It's my job to have something to say.

They pay me to provide words that help make sense of that which troubles the American soul. But in this moment of airless shock when hot tears sting disbelieving eyes, the only thing I can find to say, the only words that seem to fit, must be addressed to the unknown author of this suffering.

You monster. You beast. You unspeakable bastard.

What lesson did you hope to teach us by your coward's attack on our World Trade Center, our Pentagon, us? What was it you hoped we would learn? Whatever it was, please know that you failed.

Did you want us to respect your cause? You just damned your cause. Did you want to make us fear? You just steeled our resolve.

Did you want to tear us apart? You just brought us together.

Let me tell you about my people. We are a vast and quarrelsome family; a family rent by racial, social, and political and class division, but a family nonetheless. We're frivolous, yes, capable of expending tremendous emotional energy on pop cultural minutiae — a singer's revealing dress, a ball team's misfortune, and a cartoon mouse. We're wealthy; too, spoiled by the ready availability of trinkets and material goods, and maybe because of that, we walk through life with a certain sense of blithe entitlement. We are fundamentally decent, though peace loving and compassionate. We struggle to know the right thing and to do it. And we are, the overwhelming majority of us, people of faith, believers in a just and loving God.

Some people — you, perhaps — think that any or all of this makes us weak. You're mistaken. We are not weak. Indeed, we are strong in ways that cannot be measured by arsenals.

IN PAIN

Yes, we're in pain now. We are in mourning and we are in shock. We're still grappling with the unreality of the awful thing you did, still working to make ourselves understand that this isn't a special effect from some Hollywood blockbuster, isn't the plot development from a Tom Clancy novel. Both in terms of the awful scope of their ambition and the probable final death toll, your attacks are likely to go down as the worst acts of terrorism in the history of the United States and, probably, the history of the world. You've bloodied us as we have never been bloodied before.

But there's a gulf of difference between making us bloody and making us fall. This is the lesson Japan was taught to its bitter sorrow the last time anyone hit us this hard, the last time anyone brought us such abrupt and monumental pain. When roused, we are righteous in our outrage, terrible in our force. When provoked by this level of barbarism, we will bear any suffering, pay any cost, and go to any length, in the pursuit of justice.

I tell you this without fear of contradiction. I know my people, as you, I think, do not. What I know reassures me. It also causes me to tremble with dread of the future.

In the days to come, there will be recrimination and accusation, fingers pointing to determine whose failure allowed this to happen and what can be done to prevent it from happening again. There will be heightened security, misguided talk of revoking basic freedoms. We'll go forward from this moment sobered, chastened, sad. But determined, too. Unimaginably determined.

THE STEEL IN US

You see, the steel in us is not always readily apparent. That aspect of our character is seldom understood by people who don't know us well. On this day, the family's bickering is put on hold.

As Americans we will weep, as Americans we will mourn, and as Americans, we will rise in defense of all that we cherish.

So I ask again: What was it you hoped to teach us? It occurs to me that maybe you just wanted us to know the depths of your hatred. If that's the case, consider the message received. And take this message in exchange: You don't know my people. You don't know what we're capable of. You don't know what you just started.

But you're about to learn.

Coping with Unexpected National Trauma

North Seattle Community College Counseling Center

Because of their degree of violence and complete unexpectedness, the attacks on the World Trade Center and Pentagon may have left you with a number of unsettling reactions. These reactions are shared by people undergoing sudden trauma (from natural disaster, crime, accidents, acts of war, etc.) and are normal ways of trying to deal with abnormal situations. During the next few days and weeks, you may experience some of these reactions. They will vary in intensity and duration with each individual. Though your thoughts, feelings, and responses may be unsettling, it is important to recognize them as natural and human. You may not be able to prevent these reactions but there are ways to help yourself and others.

Common Thoughts:

- Preoccupation with the event/difficulty thinking about other things. This is our way of trying to absorb the enormity of the event, little by little, at a pace we can handle.
- Thinking of the event over and over, being riveted to television, radio, and web reports. This is our way of trying to re-establish some sense of understanding and control.

- Trouble remembering or concentrating. Our intellectual and emotional energies are focused on dealing with the shock.
- Guilt. We all cope in different ways. If you use humor to cope, don't feel guilty for not being "appropriately sober" in all your responses. If you use activity to cope, don't feel guilty for not wanting to spend every moment trying to listen the news. If you use keeping up with the news to cope, don't feel guilty for being "inappropriately morbid." Each response is understandable and helps us in different ways.

Common Feelings:

- Anxiety and fear
- Numbness, withdrawal
- Sadness
- Distrust
- Anger
- Desire for revenge
- Feelings of helplessness

Common Behaviors:

- Wanting to spend time talking and being with others
- Feeling protective of loved ones
- Sleep disturbances

Ways to Help Yourself and Others Cope

- Talk with people. This helps us feel less isolated and anxious. This also helps us "reality check" our reactions, making us realize our feelings are normal. It also helps to bring back to reasonable parameters feelings of vengeance or fear we may be experiencing.
- Give yourself permission to be distracted.
- Be kind toward others and tolerant of ways in which their coping needs may differ from yours.
- Avoid real and symbolic violence. If you are feeling overwhelmed by the television images of the Trade Center collapsing, listen to the radio. Or avoid news sources altogether for a while. Periodically, you can ask others if there is any significant new information you should know. Avoid entertainment with violent themes or images.
- Structure your time. Keep your life as normal as possible.

- Help your children understand in ways that are not overwhelming. For example, young children might need breaks from the television imagery. You might reassure children that it is okay for them to not know what to do. Instead, there are responsible and competent adults who are handling this by each doing their specialized jobs. Emergency crews are helping the victims and their families, investigators are working to identify who is responsible, safety personnel are working to prevent other incidents.
- Take care of yourself physically. Eat nourishing food, try to get enough sleep, do mild exercise. Don't demand that your body perform at high levels. Now may not be the time to adhere to a rigorous new workout, an austere diet, or a taxing workday.
- Spend time with people you enjoy, doing things you enjoy.
- Engage in activities that reaffirm your sense of yourself and others as members of a caring community.

Village Council Meeting Agenda

The October meeting of the Port Ludlow Village Council will be held on Thursday, October 4, 9:00 a.m. at the Bay Club. The agenda will include:

- Election results and introduction of the new Board of Directors
- Introduction of HCV CEO Randy Verrue, PLA CEO Greg McCarry and Benchmark Resort Manager Michael Padden
- Ratification of next year's budget
- Presentation of Council's Long Range Plan
- Annual Committee Reports
- Amendments to by-laws

This is an opportunity for the community to interact with the new developer and ask any questions they might have.

The public is invited to attend.

Port Ludlow Associates Raise Sewer Hook-up Fees

by Ralph Thomas

In an unexpected move, Port Ludlow Associates (PLA) raised the hook-up fee to the sewer system from $4,000 to $8,000. This surprising increase was announced to the Village Council, but no press release was issued at the time. The sewer system requires the addition of a new aeration basin to bring it up to capacity for the completion of the build-out of Port Ludlow. This basin is estimated to cost approximately $500,000.

The initial announcement of the change in fees was a surprise to Village Council President Sally Smith. She said the move was hasty, and that it would have been better to announce the proposed increase with a grace period that would allow lot owners to pay at the old rate. Ms. Smith also said the Ludlow Maintenance Commission (LMC) will be impacted by this surprise move since it has more than 100 lots without sewers that will now be faced with the additional hook-up fee, as well as the cost of bringing the sewer lines to those lots. She also felt the lack of communication with the Village was in poor taste.

Ron Gregory, a local builder, told the Voice he considers the move to be similar to an impact fee and those fees always affect the market value of real estate. Builders, he said, generally are opposed to impact fees. Gregory expressed concern about the build-out of the North Bay since the new connection fee will affect the market value of lots there. He recalled the last time connection fees were raised, the Village was told the monthly rate would remain stable because of the increase.

George Dyer, a past Chairman of the Village Council's Utility Committee, expressed concern that the increase had not been negotiated with that Committee and that no grace period is being allowed. He said that although sewer service fees are not state-regulated, as are water service fees, the Developer has for many years negotiated the sewer service fees with the Utility Committee on the basis of the water service fee return-on-rate-base model. "If the PLA departs from that practice, its relationship with this community will badly deteriorate," he predicted. Like Sally Smith, he expressed concern that the lots without sewers will be hit particularly hard and that many may simply walk away from undeveloped lots, which could hurt the LMC financially.

55 Alive Driver Refresher Course

A 55 Alive class will meet Tuesday and Wednesday, October 30 and 31, from 10:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the Beach Club. To register, call 379-1782. There also will be a class held on Saturday, November 10 and 17 at the Port Townsend Community Center. To register for that location, call 385-9007.

Courses are open to all ages. However those 55 years old and older are eligible for a five to ten percent discount for two to three years (depending on their insurance company). In order to receive the insurance certificate, a total of eight hours of instruction over the two days is required. Course cost is $10 per person for materials.

Community Calendar Input for 2002 Needed

The Community Calendar Committee of the Village Council will be meeting in late October to begin filling in the 2002 Community Calendar, which will be posted at the Bay and Beach Clubs. We will need information on dates for the year 2002 from presidents of groups who have events planned. Please take the information to the Bay Club and ask the person at the desk to put it in the PLVC box, and label it "Calendar Committee." The Committee members are Connie Wilkinson, Mary-Lee Pabst and Chris Whitehurst.

We also hope that you will all visit the PLVC website that can be accessed at <http://www.waypt.com/service/plvc/>.

Dine and Discover Club

Residents of both North and South Bay are urged to sign up quickly as seating may be limited for the Dine and Discover Club potluck Monday October 8 at the Beach Club. Oktoberfest will be celebrated with German food and good cheer. BYOB cocktails at 5:30 p.m., followed by a potluck dinner. Sign up at the Beach Club to bring a dish to share. Bring place settings and your own bottle for cocktails.

Port Ludlow's own Choral Belles will provide entertainment. All residents are welcome. Call Hilda Cahn at 437-8223 or Mea Graham at 437-5052 with questions.

Village Council News

by Kate Madson

The September 6 meeting of the Village Council featured County updates, committee reports, comments from our State legislative delegation and a tribute to Pope and Talbot and Pope Resources.

County News

Public Utility District (PUD) Manager Jim Parker noted that a PUD might provide electricity, water, wholesale telecommunication and/or sewer services, depending upon community needs. Port Ludlow residents are assessed for the Jefferson County PUD. Parker was asked what residents receive in return, since the District does not provide any of the aforementioned utilities to the Port Ludlow area. He replied that the PUD acts as a third-party guarantor for the sewer system, monitors drain fields and periodically generates a coordinated water system plan.

District #3 Fire Chief Wayne Kier reported the new station is on track for occupancy by the end of the year. He reminded residents to call 911 in case of a fire or medical emergency. Calling the fire station rather than emergency dispatch may squander valuable time, since firefighters and equipment could be working out of the station. In addition, the Chief reiterated the ongoing burn ban and asked everyone to exercise extreme caution as the dry season continues. When asked about burn barrels, he responded they have been illegal for some time.

Planning Commissioner Phil Flynn encouraged interested citizens to attend Commission meetings or to review the thorough minutes available on the Jefferson County website. County Commissioner Glen Huntingford gave a brief update, mentioning progress at the Visitors Center and the launch of the 2002 budget process.

Committee Reports

Chair Larry Nobles of the Planning and Development Committee said that a final draft of the Port Ludlow Long-Range Plan would be considered at the Village Council's September 20 workshop session, and would likely be voted upon at the Thursday, October 4 meeting. The Friday Market reported a $660 profit for the year, and is giving thought to later start and end dates in 2002 to better match produce availability. Frank Siler urged all residents to vote for Village Council Board of Director candidates for 2002. Results will be announced at the October 4 meeting at the Bay Club.

Tribute to Pope and Talbot and Pope Resources

The Village Council welcomed a number of guests to speak in recognition of Pope and Talbot as its corporate presence leaves the Port Ludlow development. Shana Smith, Curator of the Port Gamble Historic Museum, described the origins of the community as a settlement and mill town. (See article on page 21) Washington's 24th District delegation of Senator Jim Hargrove, Representative Jim Buck and Representative Lynn Kessler praised Pope Resources, and the late David Cunningham in particular, for the benefits brought to Jefferson County.

Jim Bruce, president of Pope and Talbot Development Company from 1960 through 1980, reminisced about physical changes in the area and recalled the quantities of dynamite required to demolish the old power house, which had railroad tracks for reinforcement, in preparation for development. The first housing lot was sold in May 1968. Pat Rodgers, a timber associate of current Pope Resources' president Al Symington (also present), praised his friend for his hard work and good humor. Dave Wheeler, chair of the District #3 Fire Commission, thanked Pope, or really, Olympic Resource Management, for its sterling support. For example, ORM has waived water and sewer fees for the fire department, matched funds for the purchase of defibrillators and assisted in the distribution of EMS levy materials.

County Commissioner Glen Huntingford spoke vividly of the interconnections between his family and the evolution of Port Ludlow. Huntingford's great-grandfather's family sold eggs and butter to the Port Ludlow mill in exchange for lumber, according to diaries. His Uncle George, a past Commissioner, remembers when the "Pope boys" came to the courthouse in the 1960s to discuss real estate development. Glen came to Port Ludlow as a boy to swim, and his wife used to baby-sit for the Pope family. Huntingford commended Pope as a generous community member, ready to contribute to Little League as well as donate timber and plant material to aid the County.

Dave Graham, past Village Council president and Community Affairs Chair, paid tribute to past Pope CEO Gary Tucker for his support of strong community involvement in the comprehensive plan and zoning development and his belief in partnership. Graham said Pope stood by its word in the creation of deed restrictions and the development agreement, and leaves a proud legacy in Port Ludlow.

CEO Al Symington and his senior management rose to

Independents' Halloween Theme Potluck

by Walter and Peggy Schaftran

Singles, you will have fun at the up-and-coming Halloween Theme Potluck on Saturday, October 27. Alice O'Donnell and Elaine Thornburg will co-host this event. Festivities will start at Elaine's home at 4360 Oak Bay Road at 5:30 p.m. To coordinate food and obtain driving directions, call Alice at 437-9323. If you have clothing in Halloween colors, wear them, or if you care to don a mask, that is okay too. Meet at the entrance to the Bay Club at 5:10 p.m. for carpooling to Elaine's. We encourage carpooling as much as possible.

The August Western BBQ Potluck was a gourmet's delight! The hosts, Jane and Doreen, furnished thick steaks, chicken, and even salmon! One of the highlights of the evening was a new member's home-baked lemon meringue and berry pies! (We surely hope she continues to come.) Everyone enjoyed Joe Hunt's entertaining us with his singing and strumming the guitar. And, to top it all off, Jane's expansive view of the waterfront left us all in awe! We thoroughly had a great time.

"Make a Difference Day" . . . A National Day of Doing Good

by Boni Parker

The Washington Peninsula Chapter of Project Linus will hold a "Make a Difference Day" on Sunday, October 28 at the Gardiner Community Center on Old Gardiner Road in Gardiner from 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. to benefit Project Linus. What is Project Linus? It is a 100 percent volunteer, non-profit organization that provides comfort and security to seriously ill or traumatized children.

There are several ways to participate in "Make a Difference Day." For instance drop off a new handmade, washable and dryable blanket. Or join in the Quilter's Corner where you bring your own supplies. Some sewing machines will be available. You can finish a quilt, get help or ideas. Or take your own crochet hook to the Crocheter's Corner where you can start a blanket, finish a blanket, get help or get a pattern. Or just meet and get to know your fellow volunteer "Blanketeers."

For more information contact: Pat Gracz, coordinator, at 797-7311, patgracz@olyphen.com or Boni Parker, assistant, at 437-5067, parkers@waypt.com.

Hiking Club Schedules Planning Meeting

The Hiking Club will enjoy an easy six-mile hike on the Rosario Beach Trail near Deception Pass on Friday, October 12. They will hike along the beach and in the woods. Edel Bahr, hike leader, asks that everyone meet at an earlier hour, 7:30 a.m., at the Bridge Deck in order to catch the 8:30 a.m. ferry from Port Townsend to Keystone. For further information, call Edel at 385-2519 or hike assistant, Doris Monti at 437-0716.

All Hiking Club members and interested parties are welcome to attend a planning meeting and dessert party on Wednesday, October 17, 7:00 p.m., at the Beach Club. Plans will be made for the November through April, 2002 hike schedule. Bernie Robinson requests and welcomes donations of dessert. Call her at 437-0703.

On Friday, October 26, Don Derrington will lead a moderate to difficult seven-mile hike with a 2,369-foot elevation gain along the Lake Angeles Trail. Hikers will visit this beautiful lake that has an island and waterfall. To participate, meet at 8:00 a.m. at the Bridge Deck. Hike leader Don, 437-9590, or assistant leader Andrea Marik, 437-7915, can provide specific information on this hike.

Distances shown for all hikes are approximate total round-trip miles. Be sure to carry extra water and food and wear appropriate clothing and shoes.

If you prefer a hike right here in Port Ludlow, hike the Timberton Loop Trail in Port Ludlow with the group on any Wednesday. Meet at the trailhead on Timberton Road at 9:00 a.m. Call Doris Monti at 437-0716 for more information.

A Discussion on Innocence, Tenderness and Loss

On Tuesday, October 9, at 7:00 p.m. at the Bay Club, the Port Ludlow Book Club will discuss An American Classic, James Agee's Pulitzer Prize winning novel, A Death in the Family. The beautiful prose of this book tells of the death of a man in 1915. Dancing back and forth in time and braiding the viewpoints of his wife, brother and young son, the author creates a powerful novel of innocence, tenderness and loss. Open to all. Any questions call Martha Dawson at 437-4167.

Village Activities Calendar

Most events held at the Bay Club unless otherwise specified, and are open to everyone in the community unless members-only is indicated, or are obviously special-interest groups.

Monthly Tip from Chief Wayne Kier

Hopefully the rainy season is near. Watch your step on wet surfaces. Slips and falls cause many serious injuries.

Mah-jongg

Mah-jongg is again in full swing. The Ludlow Dragons invite past players and those interested in learning the challenging Chinese game of Mah-jongg to join us Wednesday, October 3 and 10, 12:30 to 4:30 p.m. at the Bay Club for coaching. These two sessions will refresh your skills or introduce you to the game. There will be a coach at each table. Regular play is every Wednesday afternoon, 12:30 to 4:30 p.m. Drop by and try the game.

First Wednesday Luncheon

"Coping with Alzheimer's Disease" is the topic of the program for the new season First Wednesday Luncheon, Wednesday, October 3, at the Bay Club. Personnel from Dungeness Courte Alzheimer's Community in Sequim will share their expertise and answer your questions. Social hour begins at 11:00 a.m. and lunch will be served at 11:30 a.m. There is no charge, but those attending are asked to donate either cash or non-perishable food for the Jefferson County Food Bank.

Barbecue Postponed

Because of the acts of war and great loss of life, the Round-up Barbecue scheduled for September 15 is rescheduled to Saturday, November 3, 6:00 p.m. at the Beach Club.

Lively Meeting Held by LMC Board of Trustees

The Ludlow Maintenance Commission (LMC) Board of Trustees had a full plate at their meeting on Saturday, September 15. The meeting started with the usual committee reports and included a short piano recital and an insurance presentation.

Dick Smith reported that the only lawsuit pending for the LMC had been dismissed. The cost to the LMC was $5,000 with the insurance carrier picking up the balance. Dick also gave a report on abandoned automobiles, telling the trustees that autos abandoned on private property had to be removed at the expense of the property owner but that the sheriff could remove autos abandoned on public right-of-ways.

Dick Smith also reported to the Board that new playground equipment has been installed and is already in use. He said he has quotes coming on new exercise equipment and soon should be placing an order. He has also ordered new lighting fixtures for the Club. Carpeting is to be replaced in the Game Room and a bid will be obtained on repairing plumbing for the kitchen garbage disposal.

The Operations Committee reported that rules have been formulated regarding fee-based classes to be held at the Club. These rules include the requirement that any classes to be offered must originate from a member's request and that the LMC will contract with the instructor and collect all fees and pay all expenses. Preference will, of course, be given to LMC members. Questions were raised by a member of the audience regarding the legality of having for-profit classes at the Club. Assurances were made that all legalities would be considered.

The Operations Committee has met with Michael Padden, Resort Manager, and reports that they expect there will be many opportunities to work with the Resort to the LMC's benefit. The Committee is looking into modification of the usage agreement with the Resort. The Committee also reported the engineer has both sets of plans for the remodel of the Club and expects to have a report by the next Trustees' meeting. They are looking into enlarging the kitchen as has been recommended by the membership, as well as other modifications originally presented for consideration.

The Architectural Committee reported a slow month with two new homes being approved and a number of smaller requests also approved.

The Rules Committee has a number of changes to the by-laws that will be presented after review. These changes are posted on the Club bulletin board for consideration of the membership.

After committee reports, a presentation was made by Beverly Henderson, representing the Lot Owners Association, formally giving the new grand piano to the LMC. President Chuck Wright accepted on behalf of the membership and expressed gratitude for the gift. Lois Comella agreed to play a short piece for the audience. It was pointed out that there is still a small balance due on the piano and that donations are still being accepted. Sally Orsborn, who was very instrumental in acquiring the piano, was unable to be present but the Board acknowledged her contribution.

Nancy Cannon of Community Association Underwriters then made a presentation on the policy acquired by the LMC. A complete explanation of the coverage was made. A question and answer session followed that totally satisfied the Board of Trustees. Dick Smith, the LMC business manager, was commended for his diligence in the research and negotiation of the new policy.

President Wright told the Board that he had come into possession of an unsigned letter that suggested that the Board be removed for failing to have open committee meetings. He said committee meetings, although not required to be open to the membership, have been open to anyone who wants to attend. He also said a new policy regarding the conduct of Trustee meetings as well as committee meetings is under study and should be finished by the next Board meeting. President Wright also said the LMC is at a critical stage in its negotiations with Port Ludlow Associates (PLA) regarding the use of the facility and other matters of mutual interest. He explained a small group of members couldn't be allowed to disrupt the business of the Trustees in representing the interests of all the membership.

Bill Funke responded by stating the North Bay Coalition was formed in opposition to the Village Council two years ago, and that they had nothing to do with the letter sent out. Trustee Jim Laker said that the unsigned letter was not being circulated and should not be a matter of concern to the Board. A member of the audience responded that her neighbor had been asked to sign a petition.

Greg McCarry of PLA explained the reasoning behind the recent increase in sewer hook-up fees. He said the new fees would have no impact on current homeowners. An article in this month's Voice covers this matter in more detail. (See page 17.)

LOA Meeting Scheduled

The Board of Directors of the North Bay Lot Owners Association (LOA) will meet Monday, October 8 at 9:30 a.m. in the Bayview Room of the Beach Club. The meeting is open to all members.

Piano Presented to Beach Club

During the past month, the six-foot, one-inch Samick "World" grand piano arrived at the Beach Club. The piano is a gift to the community from LOA and was entrusted to the LMC Trustees at their September Board meeting. Beverly Henderson, a member of the LOA Arts Committee, made the presentation to the LMC Board on behalf of the donors. It is largely through the generosity and trust of Beverly and her husband, John, that we have our piano in time for fall use.

On September 24, a Musical Celebration took place in the Bayview Room. The piano was welcomed into the community and donors were thanked for their participation in making this dream become a reality. Sylvia Brooke, Tony Goods and Indra Remsberg each played the piano, demonstrating a variety of music styles. The LOA Arts Committee hosted the Celebration.

Indra Remsberg, who helped in the piano selection process, will present the first recital on the Samick "World" piano Sunday, November 4, at 3:00 p.m.

Donations to the piano fund are still welcomed at the Beach Club office; checks may be made out to "LOA." Thank you for your help!

Octoberfest

The annual LMC Octoberfest will be held at the Beach Club on Saturday, October 20, at 6:00 p.m. Please sign up with the Beach Club hostess to bring German dishes, recipes for which will be supplied. The cost of $7 per person covers German sausages, beer, wine and Wally Franz's wonderful Polka Band. There will be singing, dancing, lots of good food and fun. Sign up early, as this is always a sellout.

Drainage District Assessment System Established

by Ralph Thomas

The Board of County Commissioners have elected to use a system to set Drainage District rates that allocates ten percent of the assessment to the total area and ninety percent to the impervious surface. An example of this method follows:

- Assume a lot size of one-third of an acre; the land would be assessed at $.22 per acre so in this case the land would have a $.07 per $1,000 assessment (22/3).
- The building (impervious surface) would be rated at $.87 per $1,000 of assessment.
- The total of land and building would be $.94 per $1,000 of assessment.
- If the Drainage District budget were established at $100,000, you would pay 100 times $.94 or $94 per budget year. This figure could, of course, be offset in the event the District gets grants or loans that would lower the assessment.

The rate for owners of five-acre parcels is the same for the impervious surface but the land rate is set at 25% of the standard or $.06 per acre. An example follows:

Five-acre parcel assessed five times $.06 or $.30 plus impervious rate of $.87 equals $1.17 per $1,000 assessment. Using the same hypothetical budget of $100,000, this parcel would pay $117 per budget year.

Multi-family properties would pay at 75 percent of the impervious surface rate or $.65, the area rate would be the same $.22.

South Bay Board Meeting Update

by Bill Schoenemann

On August 22 the Board of Directors met with seven guests and homeowners present. The financial results were on target with the only significant deviation caused by a June overpayment of landscaping expenses, which resulted in a below budget expense for August. Club membership increased by 5 to a new total of 412, including associate members. The Long-Term Maintenance Committee presented an all-encompassing list of assets that will be placed on a replacement/repair plan. A schedule for completion of this task will be presented at the next meeting.

Chris Hensel, a landscaping professional, spoke at the invitation of the Advisory Committee regarding the status of our landscaping at the Bay Club. His feeling is sufficient plant material is already available on our property and needs to be replanted in appropriate spots and maintained properly. He will provide a detailed proposal for fixing what we have by the next meeting.

Both of our treadmills in the exercise area are showing their age with a continuous need for repair (just like humans). These machines have, by far, the highest utilization of any of the machines in the exercise area. Kathy Celmer of Omni Fitness (a subsidiary of Brunswick Corp.) presented a case for a refurbished "Life Fitness" machine with a one-year guarantee for $3,300. A new one would cost $5,500 with a two-year guarantee. The Board voted to replace the more unreliable treadmill with a refurbished unit, with the proviso that we can trade it in within 90 days on a new machine if we are not satisfied. Our second machine will be refurbished at a minor cost. In addition restrooms will be placed on separate circuit breakers to distribute load and reduce power failures.

The Architectural Review Committee (ARC) will hold a series of meetings with individual Association representatives to discuss simplifying the approval of requests. These meetings were scheduled for Friday, September 7, and Friday, September 21, at the Bay Club.

A third contractor is bidding on resolving the pool area humidity problem. Outside wall facing was pulled off around the pool and the good news was that treated lumber was used in construction so damage is limited to soggy wallboard and insulation. This damage is limited to the areas surrounding metal window and doorframes. The contractor will give us a bid to fix the affected areas, but repair will probably wait until resolution of the humidity problem. Mike Morgan reported that the pool cover is being placed on the pool whenever possible, so this may have a positive effect on both the humidity problem and our utility bill.

A change in the bylaws to reduce annual meeting quorum requirements from a majority to thirty-four percent of homeowners was approved by the Board for approval at the next Annual Meeting. We will still need a majority of homeowners to be present on July 24, 2002 to be able to hold an official meeting.

The Port Ludlow Village Council (PLVC) has asked if the Presidents of the LMC and of the SBCA would be members of the Council. My reaction was positive if they didn't expect financial support or participation on various committees. SBCA demands already take a minimum of two hours daily. The Board voted to allow participation if voters approve the amendments to the PLVC charter.

The Board received a letter from Bayview Village asking that the SBCA assume maintenance for the monument and landscaping at the entrance to Port Ludlow, which happens to be on Bayview Village property. The Board, in the past, has declined to assume responsibility for maintenance of any of the monuments on individual Association property and declined to accept responsibility for the Port Ludlow monument on Bayview property. In addition, the Board voted to discontinue maintenance of the roadside and monuments on Paradise Bay Road, which is being done in addition to the twice yearly County maintenance program. It was felt that the developer should shoulder this cost and a letter has been sent to Port Ludlow Associates.

A new more user friendly Liability Release Form for use by the Bay Club was approved for signature by new homeowners. In the past, there has been some objection to waiver of rights even if negligence was involved on the part of the Bay Club. This language has now been deleted. Members will not be allowed to rent or sponsor any event at the Bay Club without signing this release.

There were many new members at the monthly cocktail party and it was a good event. The Club is continuing to send out reminder cards to new members as well as e-mails to old-timers. Come on out and meet your friends and neighbors!

We urge you to contact Board Members, as well as presenting your views at the next monthly meeting of the SBCA Board to be held on Friday, October 26.

Art, Craft and Quilt Show

Check us out! Treat yourself to the finest arts and crafts show and sale, Friday, October 26, from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. at the Bay Club. We've added artists and expanded the selection to include art, woodcarving, jewelry, photos, pottery, quilts, cards, stamping, country-style gifts, Dream Coats, garden art, dried lavender and more! Meet the artists—some first-time exhibitors. Plan to do your Christmas shopping and bring joy to others. A percentage of sales go to charity of choice.

Note: Any artists or crafters not registered but wishing to show, should call Monica Martin at 437-9234 or Jean Kraft at 437-2086.

Bay Club Winter Hours

Just a reminder that the clubhouse is closed on Sundays beginning October 1.
Open Monday through Friday,
7:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.
Saturday, 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Welcome Linda!

Meet Linda Colasurdo, new Operations Manager for the Bay Club. She and her husband live in Indianola with their three children, and she replaces Debbie Ueda whose husband was transferred to Florida. The Colasurdos have owned a business in Winslow for twenty years, the Gallery of the Peoples, handling ethnic art from all over the world. They specialize in Native American Northwest Coast, particularly basketry from the 1850-1920 period.

Linda's serious hobby is trekking in Peru and Nepal. She has taken groups but also likes to trek by herself. In 1994 she made a trip to Nepal with Debbie Ueda which began their long friendship. The Colasurdos provide schooling for three additional children from India, Nepal and Ghana. All South Bay members welcome Linda to the Bay Club.

Free Spirits Plan Halloween Harvest Dinner

by Pat Lohrey

The Free Spirits Halloween Harvest Dinner will be held at the Bay Club on Wednesday, October 31, starting with cocktails at 6:00 p.m., followed by dinner at 7:00 p.m. You may come in disguise or as the real you, as you choose. The cost is $10 for members and $15 for non-members. Cut-off date for sign ups is Friday, October 26. Chefs Judy McCay and Mary Ann Sandor will again work their culinary magic in the kitchen.

Remember, there is still time to join Free Spirits. Membership forms are available at the Bay Club.

Trash Bash

Mary and Bill Clardy, the King and Queen of the Trash Bash, urge you to join in the community service program to make Port Ludlow's South Bay look beautiful. Plan to join them Friday, October 12, 10:30 a.m., at the Bay Club to get assignments. You'll want to stay afterwards for a great lunch featuring tube steaks. Let's have a big turnout, as we did in July, and have lots of fun! Any questions? Call 437-0583.

Guitarists Perform a World of Music—from Bach to Tango

by Barbara Wagner-Jauregg

Perceived as classical, but not intimidating, the Canadian Guitar Trio, based in Vancouver, BC, is known for its variety of music and great ensemble playing. They'll prove it on Saturday, November 3, at 8:00 p.m., in the second concert of the Arts Council's Performing Arts in Port Ludlow series held at the Bay Club.

Founded in 1996 by guitarist, Harold Micay, the Canadian Guitar Trio brings together three superb talents on one stage proving there's strength in numbers particularly when those three great talents are Harold Micay, Hanh Nguyen and Zach Westfall. Three guitars can create a world of sound. Because one guitar can play several voices at a time, the addition of two more makes the possible combinations very exciting.

A performance by the Canadian Guitar Trio usually includes Renaissance dances, a concerto, chamber music, works by Spanish masters such as Rodrigo and Joaquin Granados, Latin, flamenco, Sephardic, and contemporary works written specifically for the trio with drumming and unique percussive effects. Not only will all three guitarists perform together but they're expected to add solo and duo repertoire into their program as well.

Subscribers to Performing Arts in Port Ludlow are already holding tickets for this concert. Single tickets for this performance are $15 and can be ordered now by mail. Send your check, payable to the Port Ludlow Arts Council, to P. O. Box 65210, Port Ludlow, WA 98365. Be sure to include a stamped, self-addressed envelope and tickets will be mailed to you. They can also be purchased in person at the Bay Club.

Broadway Swings to the Big Band Sound

by Peggy Smith

Rehearsals for the eighth year (we can't believe it!) of musical revues (we like to call them extravaganzas!) are in full swing and will reach fever pitch in October as singers, dancers and comedians prepare for "Broadway Swings to the Big Band Sound" which will be presented Friday, November 9 through Sunday, November 11 at the Bay Club. The dancing ladies are already fine-tuning their routines, individual and small group acts (mostly comedy) are taking shape, and the chorus is once again filling the air with song!

What can we say about the Big Band era? Only that the wealth of singable, danceable tunes seems almost infinite, the memories they evoke are at once happy, sad, laughable, always sweet. And oh, those wonderful performers whose names have become legend: Glenn Miller, Tommy Dorsey, Harry James, and of course Frank Sinatra, Ella Fitzgerald, Perry Como, the list goes on and on!

For those newcomers to the Port Ludlow scene and for old-timers who may need reminding, "Hello Broadway" burst upon the stage in 1994. Since then, each successive show has followed the original format:

|------|--------------------------------------|
| 1995 | Broadway on Tour                     |
| 1996 | Broadway Goes International          |
| 1997 | Broadway Celebrates Tin Pan Alley    |
| 1998 | Broadway Goes Hollywood              |
| 1999 | Broadway Salutes America             |
| 2000 | Broadway Tells the Rest of the Story |

Each year has seen attendance grow and enthusiasm increase, so don't delay! Buy your tickets early and plan with your friends to enjoy (experience!) a nostalgic, fun-filled show! Tickets go on sale Monday, October 1 at both the Bay Club and Beach Club, $7.50 each; the dates are Friday and Saturday, November 9 and 10, at 7:30 p.m., and Sunday, November 11, at 2:00 p.m.

Peninsula Chamber Singers Perform with Port Townsend Orchestra

The Port Townsend Community Orchestra opens its fourteenth concert season on Saturday, October 20, 7:30 p.m. at the Chimacum High School Auditorium. The Peninsula Chamber Singers will join the orchestra for a performance of Dona Nobis Pacem, a cantata by Ralph Vaughan Williams. No choral masterpiece could be more appropriate at this time in history. Additional orchestral works on the program include von Weber's Overture to Der Freischuetz and Wellington's Victory by Beethoven. The concert is open to the public without charge.

The Peninsula Chamber Singers is made up of auditioned singers from various parts of the Olympic Peninsula. They sing music from the standard classical repertoire and sometimes add contemporary show music. In November, they will perform at concerts in Port Townsend, Port Angeles and Sequim. Concerts are open to the public without charge thanks to the generous contributions of many individuals and businesses.

This will be Conductor Dewey Ehling's seventh season with the Port Townsend Community Orchestra and his twelfth year as music director and conductor of the Peninsula Chamber Singers. He also is an accomplished oboist and retired music educator.

For further information on the October concert, call 437-0670.

Orchestral Music of Germany

The Bremerton Symphony Orchestra invites you to pack your bags for a musical tour of the world. Under the baton of conductor Robert Wingert, the tour begins with music of Germany on Saturday, October 6 at the Bremerton High School Performing Arts Center.

From the earliest times of music recorded on paper, Germany has been at the forefront of cultural life. The Symphony's program will include music by Beethoven, Brahms and Robert Schumann. Guest Artist Zuill Bailey, cellist, will be featured on Schumann's Cello Concerto in A Minor, Opus 129.

A pre-concert lecture by Dr. Robert Dietz will begin at 7:00 p.m. with the concert following at 8:00 p.m. For ticket information, call 360-373-0103 or e-mail symphony@symphonic.org.

Theater Parties and Fundraisers

If you or your organization is looking for a party idea that includes a night out at low cost, with exciting entertainment and maybe a delicious dinner with no clean-up, Poulsbo's delightful new Jewel Box Theatre suggests a theater party and perhaps dinner beforehand at one of Poulsbo's charming restaurants. Your party can save money by using one or more Flexipasses for the group. And, if your party grows to 20 people or more, you save even more with the low group rate.

If your organization is looking for a fundraiser, buy a group of tickets or all the theater's 90 intimate seats, and then resell them at a premium. Everyone has a wonderful time and you have an instant profit for your cause! For more information, or to get started right away, send e-mail to the Jewel Box at poulsboplayers@hotmail.com, write to P.O. Box 2510, Poulsbo, WA 98370 or call 360-779-9688 or 360-779-6946.

Jewel Box Receipts to Benefit Red Cross

The Jewel Box, Poulsbo's charming, intimate theater only a half-hour drive from Port Ludlow, announces an exciting line-up of plays, including three Northwest premiers, for the 2001-2002 season. A. R. Gurney's Love Letters will replace Skyscraper originally scheduled to open the season. Gurney is probably America's leading contemporary playwright. The show will open Friday, October 19 at 8:00 p.m. and run Friday and Saturday nights through November 17. The Jewel Box has announced they will donate a full 100 percent of all ticket sales to the Red Cross. If the house is filled for every performance, a donation of $12,000 will be achieved.

Slated for February is Off the Map, a quirky comedy by Joan Ackermann, a sensational young playwright whose Marcus is Walking last year delighted Jewel Box audiences. Next up in April is Labor Day, a comedy of manners by A. R. Gurney, the author of Love Letters. The season ends with the uproarious comedy Nice People Dancing to Good Country by Lee Blessing, a definite audience pleaser.

For a brochure describing Season Passes and Flexipasses, send e-mail to poulsboplayers@hotmail.com, call 360-779-9688 or 779-6946. You can also visit their website at www.poulsboplayers.org.

Vela Luka Croatian Dance Ensemble

The Gig Harbor Key Peninsula Cultural Arts Commission will present the internationally renowned Vela Luka Croatian Dance Ensemble on Saturday, October 13, 7:00 p.m. at the Chapel Hill Presbyterian Church. This performance benefits the Fishermen's Memorial commissioned by Gig Harbor in honor of the Croatians who came to Gig Harbor over 100 years ago.

The Fishermen's Memorial will honor all fishermen, especially those lost at sea, and their families. The statue calls to mind not only the history of the fishermen, their strength and labor-intensive industry, but also the danger involved reflected in the number of people lost at sea. The names of those lost at sea will be engraved at the bottom of the statue.

For further information, call 253-851-9462 or e-mail cac@harbornet.com. Tickets will be available at the door.

"Broadway" Gives $5,000 to Fire District

by Peggy Smith

From the outset, it has been the goal of "Broadway" to return to the Port Ludlow community as much as possible of our ticket sales profit. After expenses, over the past eight years we have been able to contribute sizeable amounts to various community needs, most especially the Emergency Response Unit of Fire District #3, which serves the greater Port Ludlow community. We are all aware of the high level of caring expertise provided by the personnel of this unit and of the speed of response to every call to 911 for emergency aid.

Having previously donated a total of $3,500 to the Fire District, we were pleased and very proud on July 6 of this year to present a check for $5,000 to Chief Wayne Kier. This check represented our entire bank balance from the past two years except for $350 of seed money for this year's show. It was donated in memory of Herb Stowe, who passed away in July after a long illness. Herb, and his widow, Yvonne, are long-time residents of Port Ludlow. As a fire commissioner, Herb was an integral part of the improvement of our Fire District and to the inception of the emergency response unit. Chief Kier and his paramedics are currently deciding upon the piece of equipment most needed to improve the unit's service to the community. A plaque will be placed in the new fire hall in Herb's memory.

Turtle Bluff Orchestra's New Season

The Turtle Bluff Orchestra opens its eighth season Saturday, October 6, 7:30 p.m., at the Chimacum High School Auditorium. Sharon Snell and Jim Horne will share the podium in conducting works by Handel, d'Indy, Mendelssohn and Vaughan Williams' The Lark Ascending featuring violin soloist Jonathan Graber.

.Call 385-3626 for information and reservations.

Informative Free Senior Workshops at the Bay Club October 11, 2001

Attorney Richard Tizzano will return to the Bay Club to offer two workshops.

10:30 a.m.–12:00 noon: "LONG-TERM HEALTH CARE and ESTATE PLANNING" Includes a discussion of the issues involved in estate planning for long-term health care, Medicaid requirements, etc.

1:30 p.m.–3:00 p.m.: "IRAs and ESTATE PLANNING" Includes a presentation of the 2001 tax law changes that affect IRAs, including a discussion of the conditions under which you can increase your contributions and other ways to benefit from the new regulations.

Olympic Water and Sewer to Complete Improvements

Olympic Water and Sewer Co. (OWSI) announced the construction of the final phase of the Sewer Treatment Plant. Construction will begin in early October. Although the improvements are not critical for today's operations, they will be needed by the time Port Ludlow reaches its forecasted build-out.

OWSI must also add capacity to be certain service will be available to unimproved lots in North Bay as well as septic lots that may fail in the future. The permit to build the additional improvement was issued by the State of Washington after years of work. That permit is scheduled to expire in Winter 2002. OWSI has decided to build the improvements now rather than risk applying for a new permit under today's new regulations, including the Endangered Species Act. By building the improvements today we can assure all future customers, including lot owners, that sewer capacity will be available when owners need it.

Unfortunately, the cost of the plant improvements is substantial. In order to help pay the costs, OWSI has announced an increase in the new hook-up fee for sewer in the amount of $4,000 per residential dwelling. This fee will not affect existing residents.

New Town Home Building

Port Ludlow Associates has announced the construction of five new town homes in one new building at the Ludlow Bay Village project near the Inn. The foundation for the project will be finished soon and construction of town homes is expected to be completed by early Spring 2002.

In addition to the new building, plans are underway to construct the last building on the eastern shoreline next to the Beach Club. Construction of that building is in the planning stage, however, and is expected to begin by Summer 2002.

If the Recycle Bins at The Village Center are full, please call Skookum at 385-7678.

Port Ludlow Associates Records Its First Plat

On September 6 Port Ludlow Associates recorded the subdivision of Timberton Heights. The project is located adjacent to the existing Timberton Village. Nineteen new lots have been developed and are now offered for sale with one of four home plans available.

Golf Clubhouse

Port Ludlow Associates will interview several architects in late September 2001 to begin planning a new clubhouse for the Port Ludlow Golf Course.

Prior to actual design of the building, feedback will be sought through the Village Council and the various golf clubs. Member input will be welcomed at future meetings to be scheduled.

The Wooden Boat School at Port Hadlock

by Roger McPherson

As many of you are probably aware, the Northwest School of Wooden Boat Building has been expanding its presence in Port Hadlock. It now owns the Westrem and Rutter Buildings, immediately across the street from the Ajax Cafe, and is planning to obtain five acres nearby in order to relocate its Port Townsend campus to the waterfront in Port Hadlock.

The School conducted a Community Boat Building and Woodworking course in the Westrem Building this past winter and a broad variety of shorter courses this summer. They will be doing the same this coming year and it is hoped that the convenience of the new Port Hadlock Heritage Campus may encourage the participation of our Port Ludlow woodworkers.

If you are interested in finding out more about the School's plans, touring the facilities, taking one of the courses or helping to support the School's efforts, please call 385-4948.

Garden Club Plant, Bulb and Seed Exchange

Members and guests of the Port Ludlow Garden Club will meet on Wednesday, October 10 at the Bay Club at 11:30 a.m. Our annual exchange of plants, bulbs and seeds will be featured. We hope you have potted up your divisions and collected seeds to share with others. In addition, we will have a presentation by the National Parks Service. Dessert and beverage will be provided. Members and guests should furnish their own sack lunch and place setting. Contact Pat Ryan at 437-0214 or Noreen Millbauer at 437-7649 with questions.

Myrdelle Teaford's Garden Tips for October

I have had a request to repeat my tips on the care of tuberous begonias with regard to winterizing them. When the tubers are ready to go dormant usually by the end of October or November, their stems will begin to yellow and die back. If this doesn't occur by November, encourage it by withholding water and move them to a cool dark place to let the stems die down naturally. Do not water. When the stems and leaves are dead, twist off the dried plant stems and leaves. If the stalk is still green, wait a week or so.

Dig up the tuber and shake to remove the potting medium. Dry and store the tuber at a cool temperature, as low as 45 degrees on trays or in paper bags. Don't allow them to get damp, as they will rot. The tubers may begin to look shriveled after a few weeks of storage. If so, cover them with slightly dampened sawdust, peat moss or vermiculite—not too wet, and don't allow them to freeze during the winter.

About February, check the tubers and look for small pinkish growth nodes on the indented part of the bulb. When growth is seen, replant them in moist potting medium with plenty of moist peat moss. Just barely cover the tuber and water thoroughly. It is a good idea to get them started inside. Find the brightest window and turn the plants often to keep the stems from leaning. They can go outside when the weather warms a little. They like filtered sun and will bloom better in bright sun but don't let the leaves burn.

Victoria Holiday Trip

Twinkling lights, colorful decorations and holiday festivities are not far off. Some exciting arrangements are being made with Alki Tours for a Christmas Lights at Butchart Gardens Victoria Holiday and Chemainus Dinner Theatre on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, December 11, 12 and 13. You can relax and leave the planning and driving to professionals. Tentative program includes:

- Deluxe coach pickup and return to Port Ludlow
- Tour director escort
- Beverages and refreshments enroute
- Two nights' accommodations at Laurel Point Resort Hotel
- Ferry fare via Coho-Port Angeles to Victoria
- Admission to Butchart Gardens Christmas light display
- First night dinner reservation at the Butchart Mansion dining room (dinner not hosted)
- Second night tour of Chemainus Murals and Dinner Theatre (meal included)

There will be time for sightseeing and shopping. This trip is being created especially for our community in the fine Alki Tours tradition. Space is limited. Prompt reservations assure your place. Cost is $329 per person, double occupancy, and $429 single. Call Ann Radwick at 437-0318 for details or questions.

Dancers by the Bay

Port Ludlow residents and guests are invited to a "Whirling Leaves" Dance and Dessert on Thursday, October 25, 7:00 to 10:00 p.m. at the Bay Club. Dancers by the Bay will provide ice, glasses and nibbles along with coffee and dessert. You're asked to bring your own beverages. The Gary Hausam band will provide music. Tickets are $12 each and will be available from Monday, October 1 through October 22. Party attire please. Questions? Call Ann Radwick at 437-0318.

Dance Workshops on Latin, Rhumba and Cha Cha will be held on three Wednesdays, November 7, 14 and 28. Cost is $36 per couple. Pre-register at the Bay Club.

Remembering Washington's First White Settlement on Puget Sound

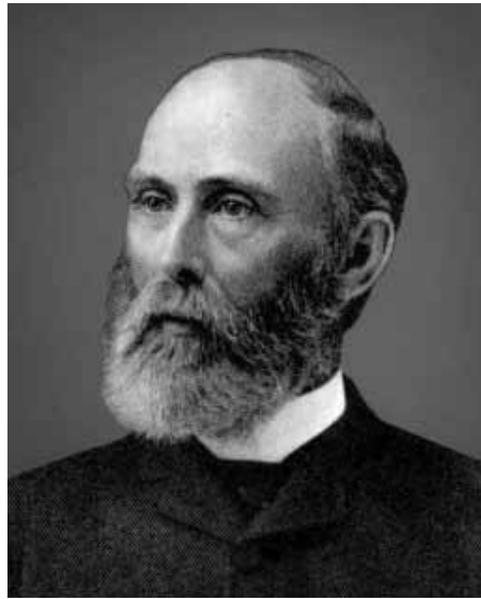

by Shana Smith, Curator, Port Gamble Historic Museum

Recently Pope and Talbot was honored by the Village Council for their long-time presence in Port Ludlow. This article encapsulates that early history.

One hundred forty-nine years is a ripe old age for a saw-mill town. You begin to realize how old it is when you remember that in 1852, when Sayward and Thorndyke built the first mill at Port Ludlow, Franklin Pierce was in the White House; the Mexican War was still a topic of interest; and Abe Lincoln had yet to be heard of. What is now the State of Washington could muster less than 11,000 faces. There was no Seattle, and for years to come merchants came to Port Ludlow and Port Gamble to transfer their wares as they were unloaded from ships all over the world.

Port Ludlow takes its name from the harbor named by Charles Wilkes in 1841 for Lt. Augustus C. Ludlow, who was killed in the War of 1812 during the sea battle between the Chesapeake and the British Shannon.

The '49 rush to California was still in full swing when three men came here from Maine—A.J. Pope and W.C. Talbot of East Machias and Cyrus Walker of Skowhegan. Talbot and Walker sailed up the Pacific coast, looking for a mill site. They stopped in Port Ludlow, where the Thorndyke mill was already making lumber. After cruising many inlets and bays, they decided that Port Gamble should be the site of their mill. This was the founding of the Puget Mill Co.

Cyrus Walker.

In 1852 Sayward and Thorndyke began building the first steam-driven sawmill and the first mill town on the Puget Sound. At its founding Port Ludlow was the first major white settlement on the Puget Sound and for a brief time the largest in Washington Territory. In 1858 the firm of Amos and Phinney of San Francisco rented the Port Ludlow mill but the firm failed in 1866. Phinney learning of the failure, made a settlement with the creditors, and the business resumed under the name, Port Ludlow Mill Co., Arthur Phinney, manager.

A.J. Pope

W.C. Talbot

The Arthur Phinney House.

Mr. Phinney bought the mill in 1876 and then died in 1877. After Phinney's death the mill ran until 1878 when it was shut down due to prolonged estate problems. The property was sold to the Puget Mill Co. in November 1878 for $64,850. With the advent of the Puget Mill Co. at Port Ludlow the place took on a new life.

From the 1885 Weekly Argus, "Quite a little town has sprung up around the mill and its population is now variously estimated from 300 to 350. It has the usual mill store, also a post office, telegraph office, express office, public school, etc. and these with the Phoenix Hotel, owned and operated by the Honorable R. D. Attridge furnish all the conveniences of civilization. The town occupies a pleasant and healthful location, and is connected by wagon road with the farming settlement in Chimacum Valley, thence to Port Townsend, as well as having the advantage of daily mail service by steamers."

The town of Port Ludlow belonged to the Puget Mill Co., and the houses were built for their employees. The homes were the center of social life for families; they had parties to play hearts, whist or 500, and also had Shakespeare Clubs. Those who could, went to Victoria to do their shopping and to buy their gowns, although many had them sent up from San Francisco. The 1880's were great days for the lumber industry.

Port Ludlow also had excellent shipbuilding facilities. The Hall Brothers built approximately thirty-one vessels here, many for the Puget Mill Co. whose employees, during slack times in the sawmill, were in charge of the construction of three three-masted and ten two-masted schooners and the Kitsap barkentine.

In 1887, Cyrus Walker built his mansion, Admiralty Hall. The massive front doors were made ship-style, that is, they slid rather than opened. As you entered the main room, you could not help but be struck by what you saw. Built like a huge purser's cabin, the companionways led upstairs to the left and right. The entire room was finished in fir. To the left was the billiard room and to the right the parlor. In the parlor you would have seen hand-made furniture that came around the Horn from Maine.

In the small dining room stood the most remarkable piece of furniture. It was a massive sideboard made in Dresden, Germany, over 250 years ago. It is now on display in the Port Gamble Historic Museum. The bedrooms were upstairs and very spacious while the beds were made from solid black walnut and also came from Maine.

Fifteen servants staffed the home and the food served was fit for a king. The cellars were well stocked with everything from Medford rum for the old sea dogs to Marque champagne and creme de menthe for the more or less delicate ladies of lumber buyers.

The depression of 1890 caused the mill to shut down and all business was diverted to Port Gamble. The Klondike gold rush in 1897 caused the mill to start up again. During the next ten years the mill only operated at sixty percent the capacity of Port Gamble so it was shut down to be modernized in 1905.

Port Ludlow School, 1914.

Cyrus Walker died in 1912. In 1916 the house was converted to a hotel, The Admiralty, which served as a hotel and boarding house for the Puget Mill Co. officers, employees and the chance visitor.

In 1925 the Puget Mill Co. sold their lumber empire to the Charles McCormick Lumber Company of Delaware for $15,000,000.

Charles McCormick Lumber Co.

An annex was then built behind the hotel to house an additional 125 men. It was equipped with steam heat from the mill, showers and drying room, barber shop and a first aid station. In 1927 a total of 400 men were employed at the mill and it was running at full capacity.

The Port Ludlow Post Office.

In 1936 Admiralty Hall partially burned and the Post Office moved up toward the highway. In 1938, Puget Mill Co. filed suit of foreclosure against the McCormick Company and reacquired all holdings at a sheriff's sale in Port Gamble. In December, 1938 the mill shut down permanently.

Admiralty Hall and the Port Ludlow Ferry Dock.

During the 1940s all buildings except one, were barged to Port Gamble and Silverdale. In Port Gamble the houses were for mill workers, many of which are still standing today. In Silverdale the houses became WWII wartime housing. In 1958 the Admiralty Hall was dismantled bringing many treasure seekers to the area. Many of the bedroom sets are in the museum at Port Gamble along with Cyrus Walker's master suite recreated in a display.

The 1950s brought a new beginning with the increasing value of Port Ludlow as real estate. Also post-war population growth created a market for home sites and recreation property. In 1966 Pope and Talbot started real estate development at Port Ludlow. The first phase was the development of 350 lots, Marina, restaurant, Beach Club, condominiums, model homes, tennis courts and a swimming pool. It was recognized as the most extensive water-oriented development in the Pacific Northwest.

Where there once was a large sawmill, now stands the Inn, town homes and condominiums. Where the shipping shed was is now the lagoon, the annex is now the Harbormaster. Where the company store was is now a tennis court, the schoolhouse is now the Conference Center. The Beach Club has replaced the Admiralty Hotel and the round foundation of one of the smokestacks is a planter. The totem pole is located where one of the refuse burners used to sit many years ago.

Old Port Ludlow is more than a sawmill town. It is more than the oldest sawmill town on the West Coast. It is an institution in itself, a tradition. The ghosts of noble old clipper ships still rock gently at anchor in the bay, while sea dogs play croquet on the broad lawn. And, on a quiet night—if you are an imaginative person—you can hear the far echo of the circular saws making lumber for troop trains of the Civil War.

Kiwanis Supports Camp for Special Need Kids

We can help the Kiwanis Clubs of the Olympic Peninsula support the Northwest Kiwanis camp by donating our unused manufacturers' coupons from the Sunday newspapers. Collection boxes are located at the Village Store, Bay Club and Beach Club, until Saturday, October 20.

The Northwest Kiwanis Camp is for children with special needs, i.e. developmentally disabled. For many of these children, it is the only time they will get to go fishing or horseback riding. It also serves as a break for their families or caregivers.

The coupon project consists of collecting manufacturers' coupons and attaching them to the goods at the Safeway store. Customers then have the choice of donating the discount to the Camp or taking it themselves. If you have questions, call Bob or Marge Helander at 437-2830.

Dock Talk

by Kori I. Ward, Dockmaster

The October sun is shining and the temperature is in the mid-60s but winter is on the minds of many boaters. Maybe it's the angle of the sun on the horizon that induces boaters almost en masse to start putting their vessels to bed for the winter. The Marina staff has noticed that more and more dock carts are going down to boats empty and returning full, a sure sign that winter is coming.

The changing seasons indicate that the first storm of the season will likely arrive soon. The Marina is on the StormWeb system, which means we get e-mails of any serious change in the weather pattern. StormWeb can be reached at www.stormweb.com. What affects the Marina the most are the winds and rain. When the StormWeb mentions those winds in quantities above 25 knots, the Marina staff changes into storm mode.

At the first prediction of strong winds, the dock staff will walk the docks looking for boats tied too loosely, tied with aging or frayed lines, or not enough lines. If they think adding lines cannot solve the problem, then they will attempt to notify the boat owner. They also look for power cords dipping into the water, canvas not secured or loose antennas. Generally the staff will not board a boat, but if something can be fixed easily they may step aboard to make the fix.

As the storm approaches and the winds increase, the staff will make another round of the docks checking lines and canvas. If the storm continues through the night a Marina staff member may return during the night to do a walk-through. On a few occasions when the storms are severe, the staff will stay in the Marina overnight doing hourly patrols.

Here is a checklist you should look over before the first fall wind hits:

- Check the condition of your lines. They should not be green with age or seriously frayed. Those lines are the only things that keep a boat from banging into others but they are too often neglected until they actually break.
- Put out an extra spring line.
- Check the state of the batteries and the bilge pump. Should the storm cause the Marina to lose power, the strength of the batteries and the operating capability are the only thing that will protect the boat.
- Be sure your canvas is well secured to your vessel. For those who use tarps to keep their vessels dry in the winter, it will not work. The first big blow, your tarp will end up in the water.
- Check your fenders. Are they fully inflated? If one of your fenders was to blow, are your remaining fenders going to protect your vessel from rubbing on the dock?
- Are your dock steps secured? It may be best to store them on your vessel or in your dock box through the fall and winter seasons.
- Check your cleats. Are they tight? The Marina staff does random cleat checks, but a cleat can become loose overnight.

May all your crossings be smooth!

Coast Guard Auxiliary

by John Reseck

It's been a busy month for the Port Ludlow Flotilla. Some of the activities were:

1. Four days on the water doing "Safety Patrols."
2. Manning a booth at the Wooden Boat Festival.
3. Giving a safety talk at the Port Townsend Kayak Symposium and checking the kayakers for safety gear.
4. Training new crewmembers for two full days with four more to go before they're through.
5. Manning a booth at Port Ludlow 2001.
6. Arranging for a Boating Safely class to be taught at the Bay Club on Tuesday, October 9 and Thursday October 11. Classes will be from 6:00 to 10:00 p.m. For more information, call David Aho at 437-9888.
7. Arranging for a seven-session Boating Skills and Seamanship class starting Thursday, November 29, and continuing on Tuesdays and Thursdays ending Thursday, December 20. Classes are from 6:00 to 10:00 p.m. Again, call David Aho at 437-9888 for more information.

8. Participating in the four-day National CGAUX meeting in Portland, Oregon.
9. Holding a staff and general membership meeting.
10. Helping to host the Northern Area Rendezvous in Bremerton for over 700 members.

Those are just some of the highlights. If you would like to become active in helping the community be a safer place to boat, we would welcome you as a new member. Contact Sharon Reseck at 437-0351 for more information.

Woodcarvers Begin Fall Schedule

That certain change in the temperature may have you thinking of exploring a new hobby—woodcarving—or becoming more proficient. Anyone interested in learning more about carving or sharing his or her knowledge is invited to our first workshop. We will have a coffee meeting on Thursday, October 4 from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. at the Bay Club. This session will be a show and tell of items completed over the summer or works in progress. Also, we'd like to hear suggestions for future meetings and workshops.

Carving Classes

Basic Knife Carving Techniques will be taught by Don Merrikin in one session on Thursday, October 18 from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. Learn how to whittle a Santa. Just in time for holiday giving.

Maureen Poole will teach beginning Power Carving and Detailing. In this seven-week class you will complete a Common Loon. Classes will begin Tuesday, November 6. Registration forms and tool lists are available at the Bay Club for both classes. Class size is limited so don't delay.

Dry Cleaning Drop-off Station Coming Soon

Mike Johnson of Mike's Mail and More our local post-office announced that he is negotiating for a drop-off station. The new station will be behind the old bank in the postal facility. Details will follow next month.

Kayakers Enjoy the Beauty of Lake Ozette

by Doris Monti

On August 27 thirteen paddlers kayaked about five miles to a primitive campsite at Lake Ozette. We set up camp and some of us explored the beautiful area. Others picked chanterelle mushrooms to be consumed. Some chose to enjoy the last chance for a cold beer for the next three days. Soon we lit our camp stoves and enjoyed dinner. As we crawled into our tents the rain pelted the exterior. Some of us found that soothing, but Dottie Johnson could not sleep.

We woke to sunshine. After breakfast we broke into two groups. One group enjoyed kayaking to islands and into a long slough. Nine of us kayaked to a boardwalk that leads to the Pacific Ocean. This walkway is often nothing more than an eight-inch slippery board with moss; and in some places, no board but mud to slosh through. Getting to the beach was a bit of a challenge but we enjoyed it. After a beach lunch we played baseball with a driftwood bat that Dottie Johnson found and a small ball I had brought. We played other games before reversing our trip back. Upon reaching the campsite most refreshed themselves in the lake.

Ingenious Jennifer Johnsen, Dottie Johnson and Robin Orneles jump kelp on a beach about one mile south of Sandpoint.

That evening, Hilda Cahn, Jennifer and Dennis Johnsen led us in songs for hours. Edel and Ruddi Bahr entertained us with a few German songs. Of course we had a crackling fire.

As we paddled back to the dock in the fog the next morning, Hilda Cahn said, "We'll have to do this every year." If this piques your interest in kayaking, call me 437-0716.

Dog Notes

by Mike Buss (a.k.a. Director of Golf)

We all have the opportunity to witness good golf matches on television on final rounds of the PGA tour. It is great to watch how these great professionals handle the pressure coming down the final stretch to win the tournament.

This year's final round of the Men's Club Championship was one of the greatest matches between two of our club's best players, Wayne Samples and George Williams. Even though it was a stroke play championship, these two had separated themselves from the rest of the field and it became more like a match play event.

George started the final day with a three-stroke advantage but quickly lost his lead on the front nine and the stage was set for an exciting final nine holes of play. After matching pars on Timber #1 and #2, Wayne took the lead hitting his approach shot on Timber #3 to three feet, making birdie. The next hole was a classic when both players hit their tee shots right into trouble and had to chip out. Wayne had over two hundred yards to the green, hit a great shot but came up short of the green. George had about 160 yards and hit the green 20 feet below the hole. Wayne chipped up to within 12 feet. George made the putt for a great par. Wayne answered by making the difficult putt and they were again tied. Everyone hits bad shots, but the way these two played this hole is the stuff that champions are made of. When in trouble the first rule is to get out of trouble, don't try a shot that could get you in more trouble, take your lumps and make the best of what you have left.

Both players made par on #5 but George slipped and made bogey on #6 to give Wayne a one-stroke advantage. Both players had chances on #7 and #8 to either put the match away or bring it to even but could not, so they played the final hole with Wayne holding a one-stroke advantage. George was licking his chops at the par five, one he can reach in two with a good tee shot and he came through with a dandy, inside the 200 yard marker. Wayne played the hole steady, three shots and a 15-foot birdie. George hit his second pin high to the left of the green but failed to get up and down, leaving Wayne with an easy two-putt to win another Club Championship.

This was a great match between two great players and gentlemen of the game. I learned a lot from their play and composure and it's a match that I will never forget. Congratulations to both players for their great play.

See you on the links,

Mike

Women's Golf Association

by Barbara Adams

PLWGA swings out the season this month with weekly playdays and interesting games each Tuesday. It's not too late for newcomers to call the clubhouse and join in the fun. This will guarantee some playing partners over the winter season.

Couples' golf on Sunday, October 7 is scheduled for play at 3:00 p.m. with a potluck following at the Beach Club. Sign up with or without a playing partner and bring your best cooked dish.

The Men's Golf Association has invited the Women's Golf Association to join them for their weekly play day on Wednesday, October 10. This is always a lot of fun with some apologies for errant golf shots by many.

The annual Awards banquet and election of officers is planned for Wednesday, October 17 at 12:00 noon at the Alcohol Plant in Port Hadlock. A sign-up sheet has been posted for this event and all members are invited to attend.

And the final planned play day is a shotgun start at 9:00 a.m. on Tuesday, October 30 with a Year-End Wrap Up Party (it's a YEWUP) at Niblicks following play. We may even karaoke again!

Men's Golf Association

by Jerry Conover

Golf Course Superintendent Jerry Mathews asked me recently about my dog Snickers. He hadn't known of the cancer that very rapidly overcame her. Putting her to sleep was an act of love and now she is gone. The reason Jerry asked the question was to alert me to the rash of unwelcome messy geese that are now populating the Golf Course. Snickers was known to have kept the goose population very nervous—which meant the geese did not hang around long at all.

Now we are seeing this contamination, noticeably twelve geese usually ranging about Tide #4 or the stretch of fairway fronting the ponds along Tide #8. The past three years Seattle newspapers and television have featured articles condemning the vileness of these fowl. The city has had to close beaches and parks and has been concerned about the threat to golf courses. If you don't believe the media, just inspect the damage done by these local geese. A goose leaves three pounds of excrement per day. We are awarded 36 pounds of droppings each day the geese infest the Course—not a good exchange.

You should know there are residents who feed the geese! This situation is going to cost the Golf Course money—and we are the bill payers. Now, never pose a problem without a solution. The solutions are several: chase 'em, harass 'em, exterminate 'em—just do not tolerate the geese.

In a game I played three months ago with Bill Shea as a partner, we chased them from the Tide #4 green. My chase was effective, as was the aim with my “goose” iron. Bill didn't seem unduly upset when I carried the carcass to the hollow stump adjacent to the green. The moral of the story is No Geese! Should a golfer encounter goose residue, the rules of golf provide for relief. Relief may be taken.

Some of our members subscribe to the Peninsula Daily News. Hopefully they saw the fine article written by Billy Sallee, the paper's golf reporter. In his article he mentioned touring the Trail nine and conversing with several of our golfers. He was very complimentary and impressed by the Port Ludlow Golf Course.

In my opinion, the new ownership appears to not be comfortable informing the community about initiatives being acted upon or just being abandoned at this time. We don't know from one day to the next if we will be a functioning golf course, plowed under in favor of a space port or if we will be eliminated from membership as a result of escalating costs of respective memberships. It is truly unfortunate the membership is not a privileged partner in the creative process of attractive golf in Port Ludlow. There has been a small effort to coordinate information and obtain advice from a few people. We hope in the coming weeks that more information will be shared with us. Remember when it comes to goose droppings you may move your ball, but no closer to the hole.

Only three more events left in a wonderful golf season. On Thursday, October 4, we will play modified skins game and longest drive on Timber. Thursday, October 11, after playing a 9:00 a.m. shotgun on Tide, we will hold our annual Captain's Luncheon at the Belmont in Port Townsend.

Our final event on Thursday, October 18, will be a couple's 12:00 noon shotgun on Tide. The End-of-Year Banquet at the Bay Club will start with BYOB cocktails at 5:30 p.m., dinner at 6:30 p.m., followed by awards, music and dancing.

PLCC Meeting

The PLCC meeting Monday, October 8 features Steve Fallin, who was originally scheduled to speak in July. Steve is a network security expert from Watchguard Technology, <http://www.watchguard.com>. He will talk about network/internet security and firewalls. This will relate directly to you if you are considering a cable/dsl/satellite connection to the Internet where your computer is always online.

Pat Awisus' short subject is on The Ten Best Sites for Seniors. Join us at the Bay Club for coffee and cookies at 6:30 p.m.; the meeting begins at 7:00 p.m.

PLCC Update

by Don Plorde, PLCC President

With the help of the Port Ludlow Computer Club, the Bay Club is now set up with CableSpeed on two of their three computers. The third will be set up with it in the near future. By sharing the cost of the CableSpeed connections with the Bay Club and disconnecting the shared telephone line we both used for dial-up access to our ISPs, we are saving money for the Bay Club and, ultimately, for the PLCC. At this point, about ten percent of our members have switched to CableSpeed. There have been some negative comments about the service, in terms of downtime, in one part of Port Ludlow, but elsewhere the service has been good based on what we've heard. Obviously, the switch to CableSpeed is a personal decision and certainly may not be for everybody.

In an earlier article, I had recommended the use of a LinkSys Router to act as a firewall when you connect to CableSpeed. There is one detail I failed to mention in requirements for use of this firewall. You must have a network card installed to which the cable modem is connected. This is the normal installation. However, Millennium does offer a direct connection of the cable modem to a spare USB port, which saves a few dollars, depending on what MDM is offering you in terms of installation charges (ask!). This is not the preferred mode of connection. The USB connection for the cable modem is considered "flaky." What this means is not clear, but this could very well lead to an unreliable connection.

Recently I received literature from Symantec Corp. concerning the newest upgrade of their anti-virus software, Norton Antivirus 2002. There are good anti-virus programs out there in addition to Norton and it is not my intent to persuade you to switch. Most important is that you do use anti-virus software and do keep it up-to-date. This is directed more at the current users of Norton Antivirus (NAV) with a recommendation to upgrade to the newest version. The important reason you should consider doing this is that NAV now adds virus checks on your outgoing mail. How many times have you received a virus from someone via e-mail? A good example is the recent spread of the KAK worm. This has caused no end of grief for those who were infected with it, and has spread the misery on to many of those with whom they correspond by e-mail. Perhaps now, with this added protection, the spread of viruses will be abated.

Computer Classes

A Photo Editing class is scheduled for Thursday, October 18 and 25, at 2:00 p.m. A class on Publisher starts Tuesday, October 9 and continues on consecutive Tuesdays, October 16, 23 and 30, also at 2:00 p.m. These classes are for PLCC members only. Please call Bob Graham at 437-0680 if you have interest in either of these classes.

SIG News

The Office SIG (Word, Excel, PowerPoint and Publisher) will be on Monday, October 1 at 10:30 a.m. at the Bay Club. Help on these programs and their use with the Internet is our goal. Please bring your questions about Office applications and we will either answer them or get on the track to find the answer. Knowledge of application tools and idiosyncrasies helps to keep the frustration factor at a minimum. After our Q&A, we will look at some tips on Word and their use. See you at the SIG.

Genealogy SIG meets at noon on Thursday, October 11 at the Bay Club. All PLCC members with an interest in genealogy are invited to attend.

The Special Topics SIG is on Monday, October 15 at 10:30 a.m. Don Plorde will cover using Windows Explorer.

From Three to One

by Herman Schweizer

Possibly the most scenic hike in the Olympic Mountain Range is the High Divide, Seven Lakes Basin loop with a close-up view of Mt. Olympus, up from the Sol Duc Hot Springs, a nineteen-mile hike. The guidebook says, "... take three days," but we did it in one!

The Port Ludlow Hiking Club, divided into two segments, did this on August 23. Mike Porter, a newly retired airline pilot, who was determined to best last year's time of nine hours, led the first group. His group actually completed the hike in 8 hours and 15 minutes. With him were Lynn Sorenson, also a retired pilot, and his wife Sharon, who had just completed the sixty-mile Avon Breast Cancer Walk from Enumclaw to Seattle; Bill Lane, a former railroad engineer; and Kurt Schweizer, a local building contractor.

The second group, led by Herman Schweizer, was the whoozies. Not to be outdone by the first group, they did an extra three miles to Hoh Lake, with a total elevation gain of 5,000 feet and 22 miles total. With yours truly, who is always being told to remember his age (it is remembered at 80 plus!), and slow down were Francis Marek, a retired physician, who kept urging us to drink more water; his wife Andrea, who was always handing out tasty energy snacks; and Connie Abang, who weighs all of 86 pounds but has a determined spirit.

We departed the trailhead at 9:00 a.m. Our first destination was Deer Lake. All the while, the going was difficult. The August rains had made for mud and hazardous crossings of streams that carried the heavy runoff. We could see some feeble attempts at trail maintenance but much of the trail was filled with perilous rocks where a misstep could be disastrous.

Regrettably, clouds prevented us from seeing much of the magnificence of Mt. Olympus, but we were able to look down 4,000 feet to the Hoh River. A special treat, viewed by the second group, was the azure jewel of Hoh Lake, one and one-half miles below the High Divide. The views of Seven Lakes Basin to our left were also spectacular. We saw bears, furry marmots and many deer that had survived the local cougars.

Mike's group by now had gone ahead of my group, which was slower and had taken the side trip to Hoh Lake. The entire trip took twelve hours, ending at 9:00 p.m. By this time it was dark, and with our hiking sticks we had to feel our way along the trail.

Was it worthwhile? Suffice it to say that plans are already underway for a repeat next summer. We will let the weather dictate our schedule.
