The community gathered on the spit, now known as Burner

As we prepare to celebrate Independence Day 2005, we're reminded of the '70s when our fledgling "resort" community invited friends, family, and neighbors from all over the Olympic Peninsula and beyond to enjoy the 4th of July with us. It was an all-day party—everyone wanted to be in Port Ludlow. They came by car, boat and even sea-plane. The Marina and Bay were so full of boats you felt you could walk across them to the other shore.

OF JULY!

In the early '70s, Manager Larry Williams at the Admiralty Resort decided to clear out the Ship's Store in the Harbormaster, lay down a plywood floor, add a portable bar and create a place for dancing and entertainment. He also decided fireworks would be fun. So the party began in 1971 with a barbecue out on the spit, now called Burner Point, locals' potluck spread, beach fires for roasting marshmallows, and later a fireworks display shot from the ground. The Mary Lou Trio, featuring Duane and Mary Lou Montgomery and Murray Damitio, provided entertainment day and night. Mary Lou's dad, Johnny Tonkin and his band played Dixieland during the day.

The large saltwater pond in front of the Harbormaster was the setting for water activities.

From the Editor's Keyboard

by Barbara Wagner-Jauregg, Managing Editor

Some people take great satisfaction in complaining about what isn't being done by "someone or something" instead of organizing a volunteer effort to get it done.

For a community our size, a relatively small number of people come through when things need doing. For instance, volunteers in the North Bay carried out their annual spring yard waste pickup, while the Clean Sweep Committee gather up other peoples' trash along their streets in July. South Bay also holds its quarterly Trash Bash events to pick up roadside waste.

South Bay tennis fans stepped up and launched a Herculean effort to make the courts adjacent to the Golf Course ready for play. (See related story on page 24.) Did you know a few volunteers from many South Bay villages plant, weed and trim their entrance plantings? And let's not forget the dedicated Free Spirits Board members and volunteers that put on fantastic parties for Bay Club members, while the North Bay Lot Owners Association organizes homeowner potlucks, cocktail parties, brunches, picnics and children's activities.

Across-the-Bay efforts bring North Bay and South Bay residents together for scholarship fund-raising activities (i.e. Community Enrichment Alliance a.k.a. CEA). The Arts Council members and volunteers have brought outstanding entertainment to the community for over 13 years and provide music outreach to children. Artists' League volunteers have done much to provide local artists with a showcase for their work. How can we begin to thank the Trails Committee? They lobby for new trails and financial support as well as physically maintain our network of trails throughout the community. (See related story on page 18.)

My thanks to each and every member of the Voice staff—devoting many hours to bring you this publication. Thank them, too; their names are on the back page.

Our community depends on volunteers who are smart, dedicated and not afraid to get their hands dirty. We thank you. And, if you want to get involved, see our new "Helping Hands" column where we list opportunities for you to help out on a one-time or ongoing basis. (This page.)

The views expressed in this column are the Editor's alone—and don't necessarily represent the views of every volunteer member of the Voice

Both children and dignitaries got dunked from the Ball Dunk. The hillside in the background is now home to South Bay villages

The next year was more of the same with the addition of a Ball Dunk, where local dignitaries and kids sat on the plank awaiting the wet result of an accurate ball toss. Ring toss and balloons were popular with the youngsters.

In '75, food concessions were added with cotton candy, sno cones and hot dogs sold by local organizations. Hayrides, stunt pilots, carnival booths, bicycle rentals, even tandems, hydroplanes on the Bay, and paddle boats on the saltwater pond followed. By '78 it was quite an event with an Antique Car Show, two air shows with planes streaming colored smoke and aerobatics, the Farrington Skydivers, and a Forks logging show with competitions and demonstrations in log rolling, totem carving, spike driving, chopping, bucking and choker setting.

Food was available at concessions or at the Deli in the Harbormaster, or you could bring your own picnic and barbecue. Extra tables and benches were borrowed from the Mill.

The fireworks display got bigger and better. Volunteer firemen with pyrotechnic experts shot them off in the middle of the Bay from a barge, borrowed from Mats Mats Quarry. Gloria Eckmann recalls it was pretty tricky for groups of boats rafted together to dodge the falling fireworks.

Eline Lybarger and her friends came by boat from Seattle. She says, "The Harbormaster was the place to be. We often forgot to take a flashlight and, after closing the place down, had to row out to find our boat, bumping into things in the dark and giggling uncontrollably."

The Harbormaster really rocked long into the night with the Mary Lou Trio, a constant draw through the years. Somewhere along the way they became the Mary Lou Four, having been joined by Bob Blaurock, Bob Richardson, Rex Rice and Tom Tedford at varying times. Does anyone remember the Rainy City Jazz Band?

All this fun was co-sponsored by Pope & Talbot Development, Inc. and the Port Ludlow Volunteer Fire Department. Unfortunately nothing lasts forever and the final year was either '78 or '79. The crowds were huge, the debris left behind endless, cars filled the parking areas and lined up for miles along Oak Bay Road. Families were bringing their own fireworks; children were running around with sparklers, not to mention the cost of the fireworks was skyrocketing, too. It was sure great while it lasted...

The Mary Lou Trio rocked the Harbormaster.

Joan Bruce recalls, "All I remember is company, company, company. The doorbell was always ringing and there was company, expected or not." Which brings to mind that old adage—the more things change, the more they stay the same. In the '70s on the 4th of July, Port Ludlow was the place to be—and it still is!

Ludlow Granddaughters Take State!

Sisters Moriah and Anna Christensen, granddaughters of Port Ludlow's Dotty Christensen, both won state titles in May at the 2005 Washington State Cinderella Scholarship Pageant. Moriah was crowned Cinderella Miss and Anna was crowned State Teen! Each girl received numerous prizes and $500 cash. In July, they will represent the State of Washington at the International Finals in Las Vegas.

The girls' parents are Jan and Janet Christensen of Chimacum. Moriah, a 7th grader at Chimacum Middle School, enjoys being a part of the Puget Sound Explorers, studies with Bernie Robinson and dances with her hula troop. Anna, a 9th grader at Chimacum High School, enjoys photography and performing her talent of Poi. Both girls have been featured entertainment at a First Wednesday luncheon, and made their first royal appearance at the Rhody parade.

Founded in 1976, the Cinderella Scholarship Pageant is one of the world's largest and most prestigious scholarship pageants for young people. It is designed to give young people the opportunity to develop and perform their talents, sharpen interview skills and gain poise and self-confidence in an atmosphere that promotes positive growth of the individual.

Moriah and Anna are accepting donations and sponsorship for their trip to Las Vegas. If you would like to help, call Janet Christensen at 732-7270.

Multi-Sport and Adventure Day Camp Set

Ice Cream in August - Yum!

Nothing says summer like ice cream, so mark your calendars to celebrate on Saturday, August 6, from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. at the Marina. Community Enrichment Alliance's (CEA's) second annual Ice Cream Social promises there will be hard vanilla and chocolate this year. Choose regular or low-carb ice cream for your sundae with one or all of the toppings: hot fudge, caramel and strawberry sauce, topped with whipped cream, nuts and cherries.

To add to the fun, the Jefferson County Fire Department may make an appearance with its fire truck. Young and old, who isn't thrilled by a fire truck? Local artists have been invited to display their work, and the Choral Bells will be singing for their sundaes at 3:00 p.m. More fun activities are in the works.

Advance tickets go on sale at the CEA table in the Bay Club each Wednesday and Friday from 11:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. During the month of July, including Friday, July 1, you may purchase tickets at the CEA event booth at the Port Ludlow Friday Market.

Advance tickets are a real bargain: all-you-can-eat ice cream plus a tee shirt for $15; one sundae and one cone for $5 or two sundaes for $7. The day of the Ice Cream Social, an all-you-can-eat ticket will cost $15 without the tee shirt; one sundae will be $4, and a cone will be $2.

All proceeds from this event go to CEA's Chimacum High School Scholarship Fund. During 2004, CEA raised $2400, which was given to four students from the graduating class of 2005. With your support we can do it again for the class of 2006. See you there!

Be Ready for Bridge Closures in August

by Bill Hansen

The Hood Canal Bridge is expected to have two three-day closures in August for the replacement of the roadway at each end of the bridge. The new roadways are now under construction next to the existing roadway. During the closures, the contractor will place the existing roadway on rollers, roll that existing roadway onto temporary supports, and then roll the new, wider roadway into place.

Confronted by cries of dismay from both the business and residential community over the closures dates, Washington State Department of Transportation (WSDOT) conducted a poll to determine the best dates with the least impact. The tentative dates didn't settle well with many. The schedule of project contractor Kiewit-General of Poulsbo cannot be locked for certain until six weeks prior to the first scheduled closure. Dates currently planned are:

- Thursday, August 11, beginning at 10:00 p.m. through Monday, August 15, on or before 5:00 a.m.
- Sunday, August 21, beginning at 10:00 p.m. through Thursday, August 25, on or before 5:00 a.m.

A weekday closure impacts those who travel to work via the bridge who are fearful of work-related problems. Agencies and organizations concerned with tourist business want the bridge left open on weekends. Either way, Peninsula residents will be impacted in regards to shopping, appointments beyond the area and in particular, medically-related needs. The best advice is to plan ahead.

The End Result

When finished, the Hood Canal Bridge will have a new, wider east-half floating section, new approach sections and transition trusses on the east and west ends. In addition, the west half will be widened to allow for continuous eight-foot shoulders across the entire length of the bridge—matching the new east half.

Project Benefits

- Safety. Wider shoulders and the additional bicycle lane will improve safety across the bridge.
- Congestion. Wider lanes and safety shoulders will help keep traffic moving across the bridge. Upgraded mechanical systems will provide more reliable bridge openings.

Wow, the Photos!

by Maureen Poole

Seventy-six photos by twenty-one photographers have been entered in Movie Makers second photo contest! This alone is cause for celebration. But the real celebration will be on Friday, July 15, at American Marine Bank in Port Ludlow, from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m., for a coffee and cookie reception and announcement of winners. Everyone is invited! The entire collection along with a display of photos by our judge Garry Settle will be on display at American Marine Bank during the month of July, and at First Federal Savings and Loan in Port Townsend during the month of August.

Photographers this year have come not only from Port Ludlow and Port Townsend, but from Sequim, Brinnon, and even California. Two young men from Brinnon, ages 12 and 13, show promise and creativity, and are challenging the adults.

If you would like to assist in hanging the exhibit, or to learn more about the photo contest or Movie Makers, please call 437-2165.

Time for Souvenirs!

With friends and family arriving, it's time to pick up your perfect souvenirs. What could be more perfect than a CD or DVD full of beautiful photos of Port Ludlow? Blanket and Quilt Bonanza for 2005

Each year Project Linus holds a tea to thank members for the many blankets and quilts they have created for seriously ill children at Children's Hospital in Seattle. Port Ludlow women assisting in this effort include Lucile Nilsen, a "wonder-woman quilt maker," who has made over 900 quilts to date, no two identical. Other Port Ludlow "blanketeers" are Ruth Altis and Alyce Hansen.

Membership in the Project Linus Chapter has grown to over 150 during the past year, and extends from Forks south to Silverdale and the Hood Canal, with members here and there in between. The Chapter has created 4,568 quilts and blankets for Children's Hospital.

This year's tea was held at the Gardiner Community Center in June. Nearly 50 ladies attended, as well as special gentlemen helpers Ben Gracz of Gardiner and Noble Nilsen of Port Ludlow. Members brought in 263 blankets and quilts for the celebration, exchanging new ideas, techniques, and patterns with each other.

For further information, please contact Coordinator Pat Gracz at 360-797-7311 or patgracz@olypen.com; or Assistant Coordinator Boni Parker at 360-379-5535 or parkers@waypt.com.

Chief Wayne Kier's Safety Tip: Outdoor Burning

During July and August, all outdoor debris, land clearing and forest practices burning will be prohibited in Jefferson County Fire District No. 3. If fire conditions are low, outdoor burning will open again in September.

It's Summer When You See Road Work

The end of June, weather permitting, is targeted as the completion date for roadwork at Highway 104 at Highway 19. The project includes building a right-turn pocket on Highway 19 (Beaver Valley Road), separating Highway 104 right-turn lane to Highway 19 from the westbound through lane, and extending the center acceleration lane on Highway 104 eastbound.

Work is also underway in the Village of Port Ludlow at Breaker Lane and the (future) Falls Terrace Boulevard. The work involves preparatory access and water service work for the Kitsap Bank site and the future Falls Terrace residential/commercial project. Reportedly Kitsap Bank has hired an architect and engineer and is proceeding with the design of its permanent building.

Single-lane closures during evening hours will continue on the Hood Canal Bridge, and two three-day closures are scheduled in August. (See related article on page 5).

Hearing Examiner Considers Local Issues

by Barbara Wagner-Jauregg

By the end of July, Hearing Examiner Irv Berteig of Seattle will render two decisions regarding the future of Olympic Terrace II (OLY II). A public hearing was called on Tuesday, June 7, so the Examiner could review and receive comments on Port Ludlow Associates' (PLA's) application for the subdivision. The Developer plans to subdivide 159.33 acres into 80 single-family detached lots with open space of approximately 126 acres.

Les Powers, a Yakima lawyer and Ludlow Bay Village townhome owner, appealed the Jefferson County Department of Community Development (DCD) decision to waive the State Environmental Impact Study (SEIS) on OLY II. At issue is whether the Master Planned Resort (MPR) Zoning Code and Development Agreement between the Developer and the County requires PLA to provide resort-type amenities such as a convention center, underground parking, youth center, indoor tennis courts, spa and swimming center. Powers contends "recreation" is an environmental issue and does not consider open space and wetlands recreational.

The County and PLA say the MPR Code provides a description of permitted amenities and uses for the Resort Complex/Community Facility (RC/CF) zone, but does not require facilities to be built, and the Development Agreement does not require the construction of anything.

Some 50 residents attended the hearing and several made comments on the subdivision application. A resident of Olympic Terrace I requested PLA be required to make the "secondary access" to Teal Lake Road open to residents as well as Fire District vehicles during an emergency. South Bay Community Association (SBCA) President Bill Browne said its Board supports the project and that SBCA members would vote on annexation of OLY II at their Annual Meeting in July. Board candidate Rick Rozzell said investigation did not reveal any record of the Developer's payment to SBCA, and that the Association should receive compensation for annexation of the development. A gentleman from Kala Point, calling himself environmentally sensitive, said the percentage of open space planned for OLY II was much more than normally provided in a development. He also mentioned additional tax revenue to the County and the Developer's emphasis on xeriscape (quality landscaping that conserves water and protects the environment). A statement was read from Marge Carter, representing the Trails Committee, supporting the trail system planned by the Developer throughout both Olympic Terrace I and II.

Berteig will first decide if Powers' appeal has anything to do with SEIS and then act on PLA's application for a subdivision. His decision should be rendered before the end of the month.

In an earlier decision on May 31, Berteig ruled against three owners of buoys in Inner Harbor. While no one disputed that the County acted originally in error when they told the owners no County permits were required, Berteig reasoned that it was in effect a permit. His decision notes: "There is a long line of cases that recognize that where a permit was issued in error or is found to be invalid 'it is void and confers no rights.'"

Comment Deadline Moved to July 1

The comment period for the Ludlow Cove Division 2, 120-unit timeshare multi-family residential development was extended to Friday, July 1, at 4:30 p.m. The date change is the result of Port Ludlow Associates (PLA), acting on behalf of Trendwest, submitting a revised binding site plan/condominium subdivision application to Jefferson County. The revised application reduced the number of proposed lots from seven to four and a variance is no longer required.

The County Department of Community Development typically would make administration decisions on a four-lot plan. However, since a homeowners' association with individual memberships in the association will own the 120 units, the DCD has decided to use the hearing examiner process. A State Environmental Impact Statement (SEIS) threshold determination will also be made. This may be the only opportunity to comment on the environmental impacts of the proposal.

Comments should be submitted to the DCD, Development Review Division, 621 Sheridan Street in Port Townsend. Late comments may not be considered. Visit the DCD webpage at www.co.jefferson.wa.us/commdevelopment/.

The Perfect Insect Spray

by Eline Lybarger, Contributing Editor

This tropical tree is the source of Neem oil. NeemResource.com

Azadirachta indica probably originally came from India or Burma, and is sometimes known as margosa or Indian lilac. It is a large, fast-growing evergreen that easily reaches 40- to 80-feet tall; it is heat and drought resistant and 200-year-old trees have been found.

This tropical tree will not grow in Port Ludlow, but is the source of Neem oil, which can be extracted from the seeds. Neem oil, plus the leaves and bark, has been used as a medicine for 4,000 years. It has been used to treat infertility and repel mosquitoes. Tea made from the leaves has been used to control termites. When it is added to stored grains or dried beans, it keeps insects out and reduces fungus.

In animal shampoos it repels fleas and ticks; as a cattle feed it kills internal parasites. It has been added to soap, toothpaste, and mouthwash; it is an antiseptic, analgesic, anti-inflammatory, antihistamine. It has been used to treat skin disorders, ulcers, and was even found to reduce the insulin requirements of some diabetics. There were no side effects even when Neem was fed to laboratory rats in very high doses, and it is considered harmless to humans, animals, birds, beneficial insects and earthworms. It has been approved by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency for use on food crops. Neem extract repels most insects, many mites and nematodes, snails, slugs, and fungus. Best of all, pests do not evolve with a resistance to it requiring ever-stronger doses.

A recipe for Neem-oil leaf spray: In one quart of water mix one teaspoon Neem oil with 1/2 teaspoon plant-safe (not ammonia based) liquid dish soap. (The soap helps to emulsify the oil and aids in sticking to the leaves.) Also, equal parts of water and isopropyl alcohol can be substituted for plain water. Shake this mixture frequently while spraying. In addition to repelling insects the oil will smother insects, so be sure to cover all of the plant's surfaces. In a container, the insect-controlling properties of this recipe begin to break down after 8 hours, so you will need to mix a fresh batch each time you spray. Also, the oil will wash off with repeated rain or watering, but spraying once a week is adequate in most places. There are some precautions; any oil may cause burning to plant tissue if applied in direct sunlight or temperatures above 85 degrees Fahrenheit.

Pure cold-pressed Neem oil can be purchased online from NeemResource in Minnesota at its website www.neemresource.com. It is priced at $10 for 8 ounces, $32 for 32 ounces, or $65 a gallon.

Garden Club to Visit Oyster Pointe Gardens

On Wednesday, July 13, the Port Ludlow Garden Club will carpool to Nancy Heckler's nationally-famous Oyster Pointe Gardens near Poulsbo. These gardens were featured on the cover of the August 2004 issue of Martha Stewart Living magazine. Nancy will be available to explain the gardens' designs and plantings. Bring your own lunch including beverage and dessert to enjoy in a nearby park. The lunch ends the formal part of the Garden Club tour and some cars may then return to the Bay Club. Names and phone numbers for nearby nurseries will be included with the maps and directions will be provided to each driver so that additional stops can be made if so desired.

To register for this tour, mail your checks—$5 for members and $7 for non-members—to the Port Ludlow Garden Club, P.O. Box 65235, Port Ludlow, WA 98365. Fees should be received by Monday, July 11. Carpool passengers should be prepared to pay an additional $4 per person. If you are willing to drive, please call Sydney Hatch at 437-9111 and let her know how many passengers you are able to transport. It is essential that you pre-register for this tour and drive to the garden with our group, as the charge covers entrance fees.

Plan to arrive at the Bay Club by 8:45 a.m. on Wednesday, July 13, so that maps can be distributed before our departure at 9:00 a.m.

July Hiking Events

by Dan Darrow, Hiking Club Scribe

July is a busy month for those who want to get out and enjoy our great summer weather. There is even a repeat of the Mount Townsend hike for those who only saw clouds back in May. All hikes meet at the Bridge Deck at 8:00 a.m. to arrange car pools and get directions to the trailhead.

Friday, July 1: Mount Townsend

A difficult 8-mile hike with 2,880-foot elevation gain, but worth the effort for incredible views. The wildflowers should be in outstanding bloom. Information: Sharon Sorenson at 437-0856 or Adele Govert at 437-8090.

Friday, July 8: Mount Ellinor

This hike is only 6 miles but the 3,144-elevation gain makes it difficult. It includes great views of the Cascades and the interior of the Olympics on a clear day. Information: Mike Porter, 437-4101.

Friday, July 15: Green Mountain

Here's a chance to explore the Kitsap Peninsula. This is an easy-to-moderate hike with a 1,000-foot elevation gain and views of the Hood Canal, Olympics, Cascades and Seattle. There will be an opportunity for either a shorter 6-mile up-and-back or longer 11-mile loop hike. Information: Stan and Barrie Gustin, 437-8025.

Friday, July 29: Deer Park-Obstruction Point

First Wednesday Lunch on Summer Break

The First Wednesday Luncheon Committee would like to thank all of you who have helped make the luncheon program such a success this past year. With your support, we collected $1,278 in cash, which through ingenious use of sales, bulk food buys, etc. we were able to translate into $2,733 (and 2,801 pounds of food) for the Tri-Area Food Bank. In addition, we contributed $360 in personal checks to the Food Bank. We think this year has been a stellar success.

We also recognize that we could never have produced such a response without the generous contributions from the following:

- Elevated Ice Cream
- Harbormaster Seafood and Spirits
- Holly’s Fine Flowers
- LaLa Land
- Manresa Castle
- Nifty Fifty’s Soda Fountain
- Once Upon a Time
- Personalize It
- Port Ludlow Skin Care & Spa
- The Public House
- The Surf Restaurant

We look forward to having all of you join us in September for an exciting new season of programs.

Drawing Classes with Judy Courtwright

Drawing is scheduled for Monday, Tuesday and Thursday, July 25, 26, and 28, from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. at the Bay Club. To register, drop checks off at the Bay Club desk or send to Judy Courtwright, P. O. Box 765, Port Hadlock, 98339. Fees are $45 for Bay Club members and $50 for non-members.

“Frequently, I am asked if drawing has to come first before painting or sculpting,” says Courtwright. “My answer is no. If a student really doesn’t wish to begin with drawing, it is better to wait until he or she is ready for it. And ready for it they will be. No matter where we begin as artists, at some point the desire to draw will emerge. And it is a powerful desire, almost addictive, that impels the student to learn to see better, so he or she can paint or sculpt better.”

She continues, “That is the key to drawing. We all can hold the pencil to make marks on a page. It is the seeing accurately, accepting what we see instead of what we think we know, and then a little bit of something I call the language of the line that we study in drawing.”

Weather permitting, the class will work outside some of the time. Courtwright adds, “It is a wonderful experience to see more clearly into nature and to learn to express what we see using lights and darks. What the simple pencil can do is really quite wonderful.”

Artists' League News

Watercolorist Mike Kowalski will be demonstrating his painting technique and speaking about his process at the Artists' League meeting on Wednesday, July 20, 1:00 p.m. at the Beach Club.

Marrowstone Island resident Kowalski has had a varied career doing theatre posters, book illustrations, editorial and product work. These days he is associated with projects ranging from the Northwest Maritime Center to recent developments in Moscow and Malaysia. He paints whenever he can and tries to have a yearly show. He is always thinking painting, observing colors and composition everywhere.

The League welcomes visitors to these meetings. Contact President Marti Mathis at 437-2704 or marti@waypt.com for further information.

A double treat is in store for those who attend the Friday, July 1, opening reception for the Artists of the Month from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m. at the American Marine Bank and the Artists' League Gallery. Two outstanding artists, Janice Gruber and Joyce Jordan, will be featured during the month.

Gruber grew up in the Northwest and finds that florals are her favorite subject matter, which she paints in her studio during the winter months. She then sets up during the summer to paint plein air on silk, canvas, paper, board, using dyes, oil, watercolor or waxes. She has received a variety of honors and awards over the years.

Jordan says, "I paint to express the feelings of my experience through space, color, line and form. I paint to transport the viewer to another place and time." She has drawn and sketched since childhood and her work leans toward realism. She paints mainly in watercolors, but also enjoys working with pen and ink, colored pencil and pastels.

Stop by the bank and the League Gallery next door during July to view the work of these two featured artists.

Cardiac and Stroke Care

Edited by Barbara Wagner-Jauregg

Availability of cardiac and stroke care for Port Ludlow residents weighs heavily on the minds of many. At least that was the feeling expressed when more than 150 community residents gathered to hear a talk in late May by Scott Bosch, Harrison Hospital's new President and Chief Executive Officer. Peggy Schafran, who had first-hand experience when her late husband was airlifted to a Seattle hospital with chest pain, was instrumental in arranging the Bay Club program.

Bosch told the audience that Harrison Hospital has Level III Trauma Centers in Silverdale as well as Bremerton and Port Orchard, where board-certified emergency-room doctors can handle everything but multiple car crash injuries, reattaching limbs and neurosurgery. The stroke protocol in these emergency rooms is among the state's best, said Bosch. He explained Harrison's cardiologists were certified for open-heart surgery in 2002, and that 200 open-heart surgeries were performed in the past 18 months, with a mortality rate of one-third the state average.

Port Ludlow residents described two priorities for healthcare—a specialty heart clinic on the Olympic Peninsula staffed by Harrison cardiologists. They also wanted a choice of hospitals in an emergency so they didn't end up in Seattle, far from families and primary doctors. Bosch explained a heart clinic isn't going to happen anytime soon, citing difficulties in recruiting cardiologists to Washington, where malpractice insurance is high and Medicare reimbursements are lower in rural areas.

As far as choice of hospitals in an emergency, residents wondered why they were airlifted to Harborview and not to Harrison. Harborview Medical Center is only 11 minutes by helicopter; Harrison in East Bremerton is about a 20- to 30-minute ambulance drive from Port Ludlow. "Time is a factor in heart attacks and stroke," said Port Ludlow Fire and Rescue Chief Wayne Kier. Harrison doesn't have helicopter service, which is expensive without hospital subsidy, said Bosch. The Puget Sound helicopter services are affiliated with Seattle hospitals.

Emergency Care and Hospital Selection in Port Ludlow

by Bill Hansen

Questions arose at a recent presentation by Scott Bosch, President and Chief Operating officer of Harrison Hospital, which require further explanation. (See related story this page). The Washington State Department of Health has assigned each ambulance provider to a specific "base hospital" throughout the state. In Jefferson County, Port Ludlow Fire and Rescue is assigned to Jefferson General. If the patient chooses, he or she will be transported to one of three other hospitals in the larger service area. These are Harrison, Naval Hospital Bremerton and Olympic Memorial in Port Angeles.

When a paramedic arrives at a home and completes the initial assessment, the base hospital is called and the emergency-room doctor on duty reviews the signs and symptoms. That doctor determines which hospital can provide needed services and has space available to accommodate the patient. The patient is normally transported to the facility of his or her choice from the above list of four hospitals. If he or she is unable to speak to the paramedic, an authorized adult may speak on behalf of the patient. Helicopter ambulance service is reserved for the most serious cases. Air Lift Northwest is currently running at 90-plus percent capacity, which limits its availability.

The reality for Port Ludlow residents is that we are some distance from any facility, understandably a concern for everyone. Fortunately, the emergency services we have are excellent. Port Ludlow Fire and Rescue has top-quality staff and the service reflects their commitment and professionalism.

Readers' Theater

Attention: All would be Thespians! Readers' Theater, formed in fall of 2004, invites you to its next meeting Wednesday, July 13, 6:30–8:30 p.m. at the Beach Club. This is for the bold and the timid alike. We sight-read plays from melodramas to Shakespeare and welcome all interpretations. Easy way to satisfy the "ham" in you—and you may even be "discovered."

Readers' Theater meets the second Wednesday of every month. Mark your calendar! For more information, call Val Durling at 437-2861 or Melanie Lewis at 437-9088.

Your Inside Story

On Wednesday, July 13, a nonprofit health-screening clinic will be conducted at the Bay Club. Using ultrasound imaging, color-flow Doppler and other tests, HealthScreens will check your risk for cancer, heart disease, blockages, diabetes and more. It's preventive maintenance for your body. Stroke, aneurysm, heart, circulation, kidney, liver, gallbladder, thyroid, osteoporosis and blood tests will be available by appointment.

HealthScreens offers these tests performed by nationally licensed technologists at a fraction of the cost. They are the same tests doctors order on patients exhibiting symptoms, but they are not part of a routine physical. Written results are immediate and detailed.

Don't rely on symptoms to gauge your health. The American Stroke Association reports most victims have no symptoms. The Wall Street Journal in September 24, 2004, reported "Two Simple Tests Can Prevent Stroke, But Few Get Them," referring to ultrasound of the carotid arteries, and the Ankle-Brachial Index. HealthScreens offers both of these tests. The American Cancer Society says many cancers are preventable through early detection. Be proactive, and you can prevent serious illness and the high cost of treatment.

The complete 10-test screening is $240. Most tests are $35 each. For more information, visit www.healthscreens.net or call 1-877-854-4735 toll-free.

Ho, Ho, Ho!

by Maureen Poole

What is the Voice staff thinking? There must be visions of more than sugarplums dancing in their heads, if they are thinking holidays in July. Well, we are indeed thinking holidays, and holiday lights, and a map to all the well-dressed holiday houses, and a competition, and of course, prizes. Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa, and he will be touring Port Ludlow looking for lighted and decorated homes. So if you are inclined to decorate, or inclined to tour, watch this space for us to rip the wrapping off our "drive yourself" holiday tour competition.

We haven't forgotten boat owners. If you are making plans, I'll want to know. In September we'll start our list, and in December we'll publish a map. Anyone wishing to assist in this endeavor is encouraged to call me at 437-2165.

CEA's Out to Lunch Bunch for July

On Tuesday, July 19, at 12:30 p.m., we will have lunch at the Willcox House, a 1930s estate, which has been described as a grand mansion in a paradise setting. Typically they serve meals only to their guests, but have agreed to do a lunch just for us. The cost is $21 in advance. Since we are limited to 24 people, please make your reservation, leave your check, and pick up directions, at the CEA Ticket Table at the Bay Club on Wednesday or Friday between 11:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m. The deadline for reservations is Friday, July 15. When the 24 reservations are filled we will make a list of alternates, but not accept any money. If you have a reservation, and are unable to go, please contact Eline Lybarger immediately at 437-7701.

In this private, romantic getaway we will be treated to a lunch of an open-faced turkey and provolone croissant napped with béchamel sauce, a side salad of mixed greens and vegetables with a balsamic vinaigrette dressing, and coffee or tea. The chef will select one of her specialty desserts for us.

In August the Out to Lunch Bunch will head to Seattle for a dim sum lunch at the House of Hong.

A Resident's View

There is a village by the sea,
a place that means the world to me.
Its shores are light and graying sand
the work of the seas hard-grinding hand.
And in the village a church there stands
where one can learn of God's commands.
Tall firs and cedars stand watch near by.
Their leafy boughs lift to the sky.
My friends are here
and they all know there is no finer place—Port Ludlow.

Port Ludlow Village Council

Workshop Highlights

by Barbara Tipton, Contributing Editor

The June Workshop meeting of the Port Ludlow Village Council (PLVC) was held at the Bay Club on Thursday, June 2.

Council Treasurer Elizabeth Van Zonneveld reported the balance for the PLVC was $15,116 and the Trails Committee's balance was $4,258 as of June 2.

Council member Larry Nobles delivered the Community Development Committee (CDC) report.

- The Jefferson County Department of Community Development (DCD) has received a report from the Hearing Examiner upholding the County's decision to revoke permits for three mooring buoys in Inner Harbor. According to Nobles, "[DCD Director] Al Scalf is sure that this will end up with the Appellate Hearing Examiner and eventually in the court."
- The 80-lot Olympic Terrace II development, according to DCD, will not have a significant environmental impact if the Developer follows certain guidelines regarding setbacks of the residences from streams and wetlands. Yakima attorney Les Powers, a Ludlow Bay Village townhome owner, has appealed the County's determination of non-significance. A hearing before the Hearing Examiner was scheduled for Tuesday, June 7, at the Jefferson County courthouse.
- Trendwest has submitted a set of model Covenants, Codes and Restrictions (CC&Rs) to the PLVC CDC. The Committee has identified 14 provisions that need to be added to ensure compliance with the Ludlow Maintenance Commission and South Bay Community Association covenants. Resolution of this issue will precede the Council's decision to support the project. The Committee sent a letter to Wayne Helm, Due Diligence Manager, requesting Trendwest to maintain their new trails to the same standards as existing Port Ludlow trails.
- The Ludlow Bay Village project is in limbo until Port Ludlow Associates (PLA) selects one of five alternatives described in the final Environmental Impact Statement and applies for the necessary permits. Ludlow Bay Village Resort Committee co-chair Elizabeth Van Zonneveld indicated that the Committee would meet to discuss the Developer's chosen alternative once it is known.

- A rezone has been requested for the northwest corner of Oak Bay and Paradise Bay Roads to allow commercial buildings to be constructed on the site.

Karl Barden delivered the Emergency Preparedness report. He attended a meeting in Port Townsend to discuss emergency management. Representatives from local and state agencies worked on a scenario in which people are setting off fireworks and hosting parties in backyards and beaches on a dry summer day in July 2005 and a fire begins. The officials were asked to consider that the bridge might be closed and the tide might be low preventing regular departures of the Port Townsend ferry. In addition, the area has many dead-end roads, and cars are clogging the highways. Many people will be visiting the area for the holiday weekend.

Barbara Bradford reported that 28 vendors, "more than we've ever had", sold their wares on opening day of the Friday Market. She is also coordinating the Port Ludlow Days festival planned for Saturday and Sunday, October 1 and 2. She would like to seek sponsors, bring in musicians and hold a golf tournament. "I am hoping this event will draw us together as a community," says Bradford.

Marge Carter delivered the Trails and Natural Resources Committee report (see related story on this page).

Fire Commissioner David Wheeler reported that the selection process for an assistant chief is almost complete. "I am impressed with the talented individuals who have applied for the position" noted Wheeler.

A motion passed calling for Board President Dwayne Wilcox to appoint a Committee to analyze the PLVC bylaws to determine the criteria for serving on the Village Council as a voting member.

The next Workshop Meeting is scheduled for 9:00 am on Thursday, July 7, at the Beach Club.

Trail Topics

by Marge Carter, Trails Committee Co-Chair

Spring Cleanup. Each spring we are faced with the task of sweeping, clipping, mowing, weed whacking, cutting back overgrowth, and generally sprucing up Port Ludlow's trails for the warm weather walking/running season. This year we have been faced with an unusually difficult situation—a period of accelerated growth of everything, combined with a number of days that were too wet to cut it all down. As a consequence, all of our trails have become overgrown and all are screaming for attention at once. The Trail Stewards have been working all year to keep things trimmed back as much as possible, but none of them can handle the work we were suddenly faced with around the first of June.

By the time you read this, we hope that our volunteers or our contractors have reached every trail. If we have not yet managed to clean up your favorite, please continue to be patient. We'll get there!

Don't Have a Copy Yet? If somehow you have not yet purchased a copy or two of the revised "Nature of Port Ludlow" brochure, they will be on sale at the Friday Market. Well-known artist, wildlife expert, and environmentalist Larry Eifert produced the brochure, which is filled with colorful drawings and interesting facts about the birds, animals, marine life, and vegetation that we see and hear all around us.

You'll find us under the canopy in the middle of the market area. In addition to the brochures for sale at $2 each, we'll have some free handouts about FireWise landscaping, local trails, noxious weeds, and other items of interest.

Added Value. Here's a little item spotted recently on the Olympic Discovery Trail website:

- A National Park Service study of the economic impact of regional trail systems showed increased property values near these trails in the range of 5 to 32 percent.
- A Boulder, Colorado, study showed a $4 to $10 decrease in property value for each foot of distance from the Boulder Greenway Trail system.
- A study of the Burke Gilman Trail in Seattle showed that property near the Burke Gilman sold for an average of 6 percent more than similar properties not located near the trail.
- Lots in the Kaufman Short Plat located adjacent to the Olympic Discovery Trail increased in value by an average of 15 percent since the trail was constructed.

Never Say Never

by Vivian Hayter

In a recent Voice article, a contributing author advised, "never pay off your mortgage." I would like to express a dissenting opinion.

Shortly after moving to Port Ludlow, when the interest rate on our mortgage was well over 8 percent and the interest rate on our Ginny Mae's was considerably less than 8 percent, my husband sold the Ginny Mae's and paid off our mortgage.

For me it was the best financial decision he ever made. Instead of making a high mortgage payment every month, we had more of our income to spend on upgrading our home, traveling, and investing.

When I became a widow and sold our home, I received the full amount of the sale, rather than turning over the lion's share to a mortgage company. That money has been reinvested in real estate and stocks, and I give thanks every month that I don't have to come up with a large mortgage payment.

Beach Club Manager Dick Smith reported as of May 31 $244,935 was available for operating funds, and reserves total $349,012. There were no unusual expenses in May. Dick gave a warm farewell spiced with humor and said he considered it a privilege to have served the community over the past six years.

Trustee John Van Zonneveld reported for Operations Committee Chair Teddy Clark. John Van reported the breezeway-walkway work would not begin until late July or early August. Meetings will be rescheduled utilizing the Bridge Deck. John extended special thanks to Carl Jespersen for his continuing assistance with various building problems at the Beach Club.

Finance Committee Chair Bruce Pyles reported LMC accountant Jon Froula had addressed the Committee about preparation of the 2004 Federal Income Tax Return. Froula has prepared a retention letter and will appear at the next meeting to discuss the balance sheet and tax return.

Architectural Control Committee (ACC) Chair Veronica Cross reported 22 active cases. New requests received in the past month include eight houses, two additions, four fences, one shed, two repaints, and five tree removals. New ACC members include Elizabeth Van Zonneveld, Eve McDougall, Rae Watkins and Don Edwards (alternate).

Greenbelt Committee (GBC) Chair Ron Garton reported maintenance has been resumed at the small garden at Swansonville and Oak Bay Rd. The fringe area along Oak Bay Road and south of Walker has been mowed to improve driver's view of traffic. The GBC also has 22 active cases pending.

Covenants & Regulations Committee (CRC) Chair Catherine Garrison presented a first reading to the Board of changes to Regulation II, Article III: Procedures (8); and a second reading of an extensive rewrite of Regulation IV (LMC Facilities). All proposed changes will be posted on the LMC bulletin board.

Communications Chair and LOG editor Sally Orsborn reported the summer issue of the LOG is in the process of being sent. She requested clarification of the Communications Committee status and approval of Committee members. Committee status will be addressed along with other proposed bylaw changes in the fall. Deadline for article submission is the first of the month. President Schmitz expressed the Board's appreciation to Sally for her excellent work in producing the LOG.

Board approved items:

- New and reconfirmed LMC Committee members as recommended by Committee Chairs.
- Pool Rules and Regulations. An amendment to remove swim diapers from the pools failed.
- President Schmitz will continue to negotiate with the Tennis Club to reach an equitable arrangement regarding expenses to maintain LMC tennis courts used by non-LMC members.
- Proposed changes to Regulation II, Article III, Section 4 (Procedures) regarding third party appeals.
- Elimination of LMC policy regarding individual house checks by LMC employees. The RV Park and Kehele Park will continue to be checked.

- Request for authority to investigate proposal to sell certain Reserve Areas.

Other items of interest:

- LMC currently has 41 contract members.
- LMC paid $18,103 for general liability and auto insurance for the year, a net savings of $505 over last year due to changes in the auto policy.
- Since March, ferry ticket sales total $6,100, an average of $2,000 per month.
- For those who chose the semi-annual payment option for annual dues, payment is due Friday, July 1.
- A new 235-gallon hot water tank will be installed. The old tank has been taken off line and will be removed by volunteers.
- Swimming lessons sign-ups are underway. They begin Friday, July 1. Lessons for the first two weeks are open only to LMC members and family members.
- The Finance Committee agrees there is financial feasibility for the use of solar panels. The matter will be sent to Operations for further review.
- A contract has been signed for the rebuild of Admiralty 1 Building 12. Work is continuing on Building 13.

LMC Board and Committee meetings (with the exception of Executive Board meetings) are open to all LMC members. Check at the Beach Club for date and time.

LMC Couple Propose Beach Club Rebuild Financing

by Carol Shamhart

Since January 2005, the Ludlow Maintenance Commission (LMC) Rebuild Finance Committee has studied various ways to finance the much-needed Beach Club remodel. A total of 19 “ideas” for raising money to support the remodel have been discussed at length as possible options. One of the ideas having the potential of raising significant money is selling certain reserve property owned by the LMC. This would allow immediate cash flow into LMC to support the remodel and minimize the direct impact to LMC members for special assessments to support the remodel.

During this investigative process, LMC members Lanny and Terri Ross met with LMC President Bruce Schmitz and Trustee John Van Zonneveld, to offer their assistance with the remodel project. They discussed the need to raise at least $1 million to do a major expansion, remodeling and finishing the “New Beach Club.”

After discussion, the Rosses offered a proposal to assist in the financing of the Beach Club that is essentially as follows: Lanny and Terri Ross would purchase certain LMC-owned reserve lots (number not yet confirmed), based on a price to be determined by two independent professional appraisals. The Rosses would pay the price of the reserve lots in cash with the net balance, up to $1 million, financed by the Rosses in a manner the LMC is capable of supporting financially. As they stated, “The terms will not be onerous as the intent is for this to be a community project, not a business venture.” Lanny and Terry emphasized they had no plans to develop any of the reserve lots they might purchase.

As with all major issues, LMC members will have the final say. However, this generous offer by Lanny and Terri Ross certainly opens new doors for a Beach Club remodel with less financial impact on its members.

Yard Waste Wrap-Up

by Cindy Orchanian

A thank you to Dick Durand, Peggy Manspeaker, Bryan Diehl, Bill and Carol Shamhart, and John Orchanian, the six lot owners who showed up and helped with the yard waste pick up on Saturday, June 4. It was a rainy morning, but all persevered to make multiple trips around North Bay for pick up and delivery to the Beach Club upper parking lot to drop off the yard waste. Also thanks to Madelyn Curll for the use of her pickup truck.

Here’s a big thank you to Carl H. Johnson and Son for making a dump truck available to transport the yard waste to the dump on Wednesday, June 8. We also thank Bill West, the driver and owner of Dockside Mobile Marine, who along with John Orchanian spent six hours in the rain loading the yard waste and making two trips to the dump. ☼

North Bay Clean Sweep in July

by Jerry Purdy

Summer has arrived and the time has come to once again send out an alert to the loyal North Bay Clean Sweep Committee that the summer sweep will be in progress during the week of Monday–Sunday, July 11–17.

Clean Sweep is a dedicated North Bay Lot Owners Association (NBLOA) Committee that never holds meetings, yet gets the work done. Thirty family groups are involved, each one taking responsibility for a few blocks of the neighborhood. Members are reminded by e-mail or through the Voice prior to the first week in January, April, July and October that another sweep is due.

If you would like to lend a hand, please call Jerry or Diane Purdy at 437-1262. We like to maintain a substitute and waiting list. Occasionally Committee members are gone for an extended period of time and would like someone to take a route temporarily. We encourage all community members to take responsibility for trash seen on our roadways in between scheduled sweeps.

School-age residents are encouraged to get involved in their community by picking up along the streets in their neighborhoods. ☼

North Bay Art Group

by Francy Gronewald

A sincere thanks to the North Bay Art Group for displaying their beautiful artwork during the past year in the Gallery at the Beach Club. This artwork has provided a pleasant and diversified display of local artists' work for the enjoyment of the Beach Club membership.

Due to repair to the deck in front of the Gallery, no artwork will be displayed during July. Hopefully, we will be able to present a new show in August.

All Beach Club members are invited to attend the artist's reception when we are able to resume our presentations. This is a very positive and friendly gathering of art patrons.

There will be posters announcing the date and time of the reception. ☼

Setting the Record Straight

by Barbara Wagner-Jauregg, Managing Editor

Pat Keeling, receptionist at Port Ludlow Associates (PLA), long-time resident June Sinclair, and Warren Berg have provided us with additional information on the dwarf rhododendron 'Golfer' mentioned in the June Voice cover story.

Berg developed (made the cross), R. yakushmanum x R. pseudochrysanthum of 'Golfer.' He gave the plant as a very small seedling to James (Jim) Francis Caperci, Pat Keeling's father. Sometime later, Caperci called Berg and said it was the best hybrid in his garden. He wondered if it would be okay if he named it after Berg's wife Pat, calling it 'Golfer.' The Bergs agreed.

According to Sinclair, Berg was the hybridizer, while Caperci registered and named the plant. Some rhododendron listings with 'Golfer' attribute it to Berg - Caperci.

In addition, Pat Berg, who was Port Ludlow Club champion for many years, should not be confused with Patty Berg, one of the leading lady golfers during the '50s and '60s, who won 15 major tournaments.

SBCA Board Meeting

Friday, July 2, 9:00 a.m.
All SBCA members are welcome. 🚤

South Bay Community Association (SBCA) Update

by Bill Browne, President, South Bay Community Association

June Board Reports and Commentary

Architectural Review Committee (ARC): The ARC reported Village ARCs have approved five new permits. A request concerning the placement of a propane tank is still unresolved. Litigation against the owner of a new construction site in Edgewood Village has been filed. Previously the owner had been asked to stop construction activities until the CC&R requirements for new construction had been satisfied. The matter has been handed over to the SBCA Board of Directors and appropriate legal authorities.

Annexation of Olympic Terrace, Division 2 (OLY 2): Negotiations with Port Ludlow Associates (PLA) concerning the annexation of OLY 2 are underway. PLA said in a letter that they are very willing to have this property annexed by SBCA if the Association finds it advantageous. Given that Pope and Talbot (now PLA) gave the Bay Club and property (valued at $2,500,000) to SBCA in 2001 to serve the 800 home sites planned for the SBCA footprint, PLA will not offer additional payments to SBCA. They feel the $57,600 in additional annual dues from the 80 OLY 2 homes should provide adequate funding for the SBCA. The Board passed a resolution to recommend the annexation of OLY 2 without the requirement of up-front money from PLA. The resolution is being taken to the members for a vote.

Harassment Policy: The Board adopted a harassment policy that covers conduct between employees, employees and a member, and members when the individuals are on the Club property and/or acting in behalf of the Club's interests.

Annual Meeting Announcement

(Mark Your Calendars)

All members are invited/encouraged to attend the SBCA Annual Meeting being held at the Bay Club on Friday, July 15, 3:00–5:00 p.m. By this time your directed proxy along with the Fiscal Year 2006 budget should have been received. If you have not received a packet containing the proxy, instructions and other meeting materials, please contact the South Bay Club staff.

The agenda includes:

- The election of four board members.
- A resolution concerning SBCA annexation of Olympic Terrace 2 (80 homes) into the SBCA. This resolution requires 50 percent plus one votes of the membership to pass.
- Attending members are reminded that the meeting will be conducted using Robert's Rules of Order with each speaker limited to a five-minute presentation.

As required, the annual report and election materials were mailed at least 30 days before the annual meeting. If you cannot attend the meeting, please mail or deliver your proxy to the Club.

Your votes are needed, as they will weigh heavily on decisions that will be made in the coming year.

Ad Hoc Tennis Committee: After a presentation by Clint Webb on behalf of all tennis players in the South Bay, the Board formed a Committee to study alternatives for improving the tennis courts. This Committee responded quickly as readers can see in an article by Webb. (See related article on page 24.)

CC&R Enforceability and Reformation

by Bill Browne, President, South Bay Community Association

The material below is from Richard Shattuck, who is SBCA legal council. In addition, I have added my own thoughts on this issue at the end.

First, Shattuck says:

“There is unanimity in legal opinion that the ‘better view’ is that the CC&Rs are enforceable. Legal opinions by three different attorneys have been issued to this effect.

To the extent the SBCA wants a judge to confirm this ‘enforceability’ legal opinion, there are at least two ways this goal can be accomplished. One approach is the reformation lawsuit outlined by Mr. Bill Broughton. In his initial letter, this is how Mr. Broughton described the reformation lawsuit: ‘The procedural difficulty presented here is that joinder is required for all property owners.’ As proposed, the reformation lawsuit approach requires all property owners within the SBCA to be made a party to the litigation. Presumably, those property owners who do not voluntarily submit to be part of the litigation would be compelled to join the lawsuit by being served with legal process. The potential result is a lawsuit in which every property owner in the SBCA will either be a plaintiff or a defendant. Managing such a lawsuit in the face of absentee owners, multiple owners, and purchases and sales of property, and designing a mechanism for obtaining the approval of willing owners (education, outreach and physically signing an approval document), is a Herculean undertaking.

The alternative is to ask the Court for a confirming judicial opinion in an individual case involving the SBCA and an owner who is in violation of the CC&Rs. The SBCA has authorized this approach to seeking judicial confirmation of the enforceability of the CC&Rs. The SBCA has brought a legal action, asking the Jefferson County Superior Court to declare that the CC&Rs are enforceable and that the SBCA has the right to enforce them. This approach to obtaining confirmation of enforceability does not require every property owner to be joined to a community-wide lawsuit. It does, however, provide a forum for the Court to take a look at this matter and provide the supplemental assurances of enforceability that some within the SBCA community are seeking.

Very truly yours,

Richard Shattuck”

Second, The Opinion of Bill Browne, SBCA President:

It is my belief that the CC&Rs are enforceable and that we do not need reformation. Enforceability has been verified through the better view of three lawyers (William Broughton, Shannon Sperry and Richard Shattuck) indicating that the two CC&R documents should be read together and therefore are enforceable. The Reformation Candidate’s request for reformation is an expensive (greater than $20,000) and unnecessary action.

The decision rendered by a Court in a legal action against a violator should provide added confirmation of CC&R enforceability without dragging every SBCA member into a lawsuit.

SBCA Board Candidate Qualifications

The candidates for the South Bay Board of Directors provided statements listing their qualifications for Board positions. Space restrictions prohibit printing entire biographies but paraphrased excerpts appear below. Complete biographies are posted on the bulletin board at the Bay Club and are in the annual meeting packet. Residents are encouraged to review them before making their selections, in person or by proxy, on Friday, July 15.

Candidates Nominated by the Current Board

Roy Kraft, Ludlow Point Village IV (LPV IV), served in the Navy and was a sales/engineering manager in Boeing’s Commercial Airline Division. He has been Chairman of the Port Ludlow Yacht Club (PLYC) Facilities Committee, PLYC Commodore, and LPV IV president. Kraft’s objectives are to promote Bay Club expansion, support the SBCA Design Guidelines and CC&Rs, and improve community amenities with the Port Ludlow Village Council (PLVC) and Port Ludlow Associates (PLA).

Jack McKay, Inner Harbor, formerly in secondary and higher education, has served on the Board of the Men’s Golf Association (MGA), been Secretary of the Inner Harbor Condominium Association, Precinct Committee officer, and Executive Director of the Horace Mann League. McKay’s objectives are to continue expansion and enhancement of the Bay Club and create open communication with residents concerning Club activities.

Tom Stone, Woodridge, spent 31 years in the Navy, attaining the rank of Rear Admiral. In Port Ludlow he has served his Association as President, Assistant Treasurer, and Disaster Preparedness Captain. He is on the Nifty Niners Greens Advisory Committee and is Secretary of the MGA. Stone's objectives are cost-effective maintenance of quality in the Bay Club and its programs, and improvement of working relationships with PLVC and PLA.

Connie Wilkinson, Ludlow Point Village III (LPV III), has experience in advertising, real estate, and teaching. She has volunteered at Chimacum Schools and Jefferson County Juvenile Services. Wilkinson has served on multiple Port Ludlow Boards and Committees including the Arts Council, PLVC and its predecessor, Free Spirits and the SBCA-ARC. Wilkinson's objectives are to promote responsibility in the management of the Board, exercise fiduciary responsibility, and promote decision-making in the best interests of the members.

Four Additional Candidates have been Nominated

Del Jacobs, Ludlow Point Village I (LPV I), served in the Air Force in a variety of capacities including senior research and development officer and led Northrop Advanced Technology and Development Center. He is a member of Port Ludlow Fly Fishermen and helps maintain Teal Lake. Jacobs wants more open and responsive community leadership, better defined procedures, reformed CC&Rs, accountability through independent audits, and property value protection.

Richard Rozzell, Bayview, previously had a career in law enforcement and investigation. He has served on the PLVC Future of Port Ludlow Committee and the SBCA Governance Documents Review Committee. Rozzell has been Vice President and President of his village. He supports legal reformation of the CC&Rs. His platform is strict adherence to the CC&Rs, an end to preferential treatment, and better governance.

Randall Shelley, Edgewood, practiced law for over 30 years and was co-founder of a substantial law firm. In Port Ludlow he has served on committees including the PLVC Ad Hoc and Future of Port Ludlow Committees, the SBCA Survey and Governance Committees. He is President of the Jefferson County Pilots' Association. His goals are legal reformation of the CC&Rs, meeting organizational fiduciary obligations, improving communication with the membership, and improving SBCA governance.

Robert Skodis, Bayview, was an aerospace scientist/engineer and management executive and actively involved in other condo/co-op associations. His Port Ludlow activities include the Racquet and Hiking Clubs, boating, fishing, and music. He is an active member of the Bayview Village Association. Skodis wants to improve the governing of the SBCA, implement the reformation of the CC&Rs, and protect property values.

All South Bay Tennis Players and May-Be Tennis Players

by Clint Webb

The South Bay tennis courts at the Golf Course are playable again! A group of tennis enthusiasts, working with the South Bay Community Association (SBCA) Board of Directors, caused many tennis players, staff and members of the SBCA and other volunteers to join in a work party on June 10. The tennis courts were cleaned and power washed, heavy undergrowth around the perimeter was cleared, and drainage channels were dug out. Also, grass overtaking the parking lot was cut. Port Ludlow Associates (PLA) workers are adding gravel to the parking lot and will be trimming limbs that overhang the courts.

Keeping the facility in good playing condition will require some ongoing activity, so please consider lending a hand as future work parties are announced.

This is just one more example of why it is so great to live in Port Ludlow—people willing to work together to help solve problems. Keeping all of our amenities in good shape is important not only for our enjoyment but for our property values as well.

The courts are open to all, so feel free to use them. If you've played in the past, and want to get back to the game, or if you've never played but would like to give it a try, call Clint Webb at 437-4119, e-mail cwebb91275@aol.com. If sufficient interest exists, we will see about setting up some beginning lessons, at no charge, of course.

The Port Ludlow Racquet Club, consisting of players in the community interested in competitive tennis, or organized tennis, is always looking for new members. It is open to all skill levels. Dues are only $10 per year, and it's lots of fun. Call Jack Rikken at 437-0370 if interested.

A Blast from the Past

Working Image Clothing Drive Outstanding!

by Robert and Arlene Burns

A collection of women's clothing, shoes, jewelry, and toiletries, in support of the Working Image Program (WI), was conducted in early June at the Bay Club. The results were outstanding. The 1,274 items collected will assist a minimum of 100 WI clients, according to Paulette Condry, Program Manager of WI.

Donations were very attractive, extremely serviceable, with a number of new items or otherwise well-maintained, and appropriate to the workplace. The significant amount of jewelry that was donated was in great need as the WI inventory was low. Those few items that are not appropriate to the workplace will be forwarded to consignment stores to generate funds for WI to purchase needed items. Overall, the donations will be a significant benefit in assisting the women to secure new or better jobs.

As noted last month in the Voice, WI is a non-profit organization, operating under the auspices of the Olympic Community Action Program, which assists unemployed and underemployed women with job interview and retention counseling, wardrobe consultation, and interview and job-appropriate clothing, all at no charge to the clients.

The women of Port Ludlow are to be commended for their very generous donations and should take pride in having supported this critical community project. Mike Morgan, Linda Colasurdo, and all other Bay Club staff deserve our sincere appreciation for assisting with the activity. In addition, thanks are due to Beverly Rothenborg, WI Steering Committee member, and Robert Azen for storing large bags of items in his garage.

Another donation drive is being considered for some time next year. In the interim, donations may be made directly to the WI at the Olympic Community Action Program (OLYCAP) at 731 West Park Avenue in Port Townsend. The office is located in the industrial park behind the Goodwill Store. For more information, call 385-2571.

MOG: An Afternoon of Cool and Classic Jazz

by Barbara Wagner-Jauregg, Arts Council Board Member

Where does Port Ludlow go on the 4th Sunday in July? Sunday, July 24 they'll be at the Arts Council's eighth annual Music on the Green (MOG) on the Bay Club lawn. Doors open at noon with Jenny Davis and her Quartet taking the stage at 12:30 p.m. Headliners, the Black Swan Class Jazz Band, continue for two one-hour sets at 1:30 p.m. and again at 3:00 p.m.

Jenny and her gang close out the afternoon at 4:15 p.m.

Fantastic music is only part of Music on the Green. Who can resist the tempting aromas of Macadoo's Barbecue? They'll be serving ribs, pulled pork, chicken and beef brisket, as well as cole slaw, potato and garden salad, plus corn bread. They'll top it off with apple and pecan pies, strawberry shortcake and fresh lemonade. Your favorite local bartenders will dispense wine by the bottle or glass and brews. The music will be hot—the food delicious—the beverages flowing—when all of Port Ludlow comes together for our summer tradition.

Grab your shades and get your sunscreen, bring your own low-backed chair that sits flat on the ground, a blanket or beach towel—and everything else will be there for your purchase. The Arts Council and Bay Club management ask that you respect Washington State Liquor Regulations and leave your own alcohol at home.

The Black Swan Classic Jazz Band was established in early 1989 as a hot dance band dedicated to the preservation and performance of Dixieland, old-time gospel, early jazz styles, and ragtime. The seven-person instrumental band loves the hot jazz music of the 1920s and features the sizzling talents of vocalist Marilyn Keller. Black Swan delights audiences with authentic renditions of the music of early jazz figures such as Jelly Roll Morton, Louis Armstrong, Duke Ellington, Hoagy Carmichael, Fats Waller, Turk Murphy, Scott Joplin and others. They have performed at numerous festivals and community events in the western and mid-west states and British Columbia. When not on the road, members call Oregon's lush Willamette Valley home.

The Black Swan Classic Jazz Band features sizzling vocals by Marilyn Keller.

A 16-year jazz veteran, vocalist Jenny Davis captivates an audience, taking a definitive jazz standard and making it her own. From performances at Seattle's Jazz Alley to coffee houses, restaurants and festivals throughout the Northwest, she has shared the stage with some of the most respected names in jazz. Jenny recorded her debut CD in 2000 and has just completed a second CD with her band, The Jenny Davis Quartet. Jenny is a resident of Marrowstone Island, and her band members are a who's who of the local jazz scene: Chuck Easton on saxophone and flute, George Radebaugh on piano, Ted Enderle on bass, and Tim Sheffel on drums.

Gourmet Picnic at the Olympic Music Festival

by Bev Rothenborg, Arts and Entertainment Editor

Saturday, August 13, will be a special day at the Olympic Music Festival's Concerts in the Barn. You'll be able to hear beautiful quartets composed by Haydn, Mendelssohn and Grieg performed by the Festival musicians, and you'll also be able to enjoy an alfresco potluck picnic sponsored by the Port Ludlow Friends of the Festival. Last year 50 music-loving gourmets showed up!

We'll arrive at the grounds (a short 15-minute drive from Port Ludlow) well in advance of the concert so that we'll have lots of time to enjoy the picnic food. Our tables will be reserved for us in the shade of the trees by the babbling brook. There are picnic tables, but you may also want to bring your folding chair or blanket for extra seating. Plan to bring your favorite picnic foods—enough to share! Bring your beverages, too, or purchase them on the grounds. We will be able to enjoy a group-rate ticket price for the concert of $18 (regularly $22 and $24). This is not limited to residents only, so invite your friends and family.

Sign up at the Bay Club. Please leave or mail your check at 20A North Keel Way made out to Bev Rothenborg for the number of tickets you wish to purchase. I will distribute the tickets on the day of the performance or in advance if that is your preference. For further information, either call me at 437-0505 or Suzanne Graber at 437-8081.

If you've been to the Festival, you know what a wonderful day is in store! If you haven't, get ready to enjoy a highlight of our Pacific Northwest summer.

James of La Conner has had a long, distinguished career. He spent four decades doing three-dimensional work both in wood and then in clay, and in 1990 returned to painting. The current exhibit will include both new landscape paintings and clay sculptures along with clay vessels on loan from several collectors.

Scenic outdoor settings in the Skagit Valley mark the paintings of Brock. Working from his studio, he watches and paints the subtleties of light and weather that alter perspectives on the landscape. This exhibit will include landscape and still settings in acrylic and pastels. Brock uses gesso and pumice grounds followed by layers of chalk and transparent gesso, creating a unique surface.

The “Coffee, Talk and Dessert” series will continue with a talk by Brock on Friday, July 15, 7:00 p.m., at Northwind. There is a suggested donation of $6 for non-members and $3 for members.

Port Ludlow Chamber of Commerce

Port Ludlow Days Need You

Port Ludlow Days, scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, October 1 and 2, promises to be an excellent local event. The initial Port Ludlow Days planning meeting was held Wednesday, May 18. The Committee's vision is to focus on "fun, community, and local business exposure."

Planning Committee coordinator Barbara Bradford met with the Port Ludlow Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors on Wednesday, May 25, to discuss the Chamber's role in the upcoming celebration. There are many tasks already defined that need the right person to step up and participate.

A Committee, chaired by Port Ludlow Chamber staff member and Gateway Visitor Center Administrator Jutta Gebauer will handle promotion and advertising, a Chamber strong suit. Chamber Board members Linda Germeau and Dana Petrick will also serve on this Committee.

Understanding that the summer season is upon us, we believe this is the opportune time for Chamber members and all local businesses to participate in promoting our community—and showcasing the goods and services we provide. October is closer than we think. Starting now to plan and promote will help ensure a well-attended event.

The Chamber is proud to partner with the Port Ludlow Village Council (PLVC) to help make Port Ludlow Days a perennial favorite on the East Jefferson County events schedule. For more information on how you can participate, please contact Jutta by phone at 437-0120, or e-mail info@portludlowchamber.org.

Our July meeting will be an Evening Mixer at Dana Pointe Interiors, in the Village Center. We will have appetizers, wine and beverages, and a fun evening of summer socializing. Please bring your work cohorts and your friends. We will update you on Port Ludlow Days and the bridge closure dates.

Hope to see you there on July 6, the first Wednesday of the month, at 5:00 p.m. at Dana Pointe Interiors.

Mariners' News

Dock Talk

by Kori I. Ward, Port Ludlow Marina Manager

Marina Staff

With the busy season already upon us, we have started to ramp up our staffing levels. I would like to take this opportunity to introduce our staff: Jackie Thompson, Nick Korst, Jane Richardson, Bob Gebo, and Wendy Lindsay, who will be joining our Senior Staff members Jerry Severn, Linda Severn, and Tom Modzelewski,

They are all here to serve you and make your experience at Port Ludlow Marina as pleasurable as possible. It will take the summer staff some time to really get "up to speed" and begin to feel comfortable with the many duties required of them, so your understanding and patience is appreciated. Please join me in welcoming them to the Marina. Their efforts will truly be appreciated as we look forward to another beautiful and busy summer season.

If you haven't visited the Marina yet this season, I really recommend it. The summer plantings are in full bloom and the facilities are full of life. I would like to give a special thank you to Joan Swanson, who worked diligently planting the facilities this spring. They look spectacular!

Crab Derby 2005

We are planning a Crab Derby for the months of July and August. A chart will be displayed in the Marina office throughout the entire crabbing season! Bring in your live crab, we will measure and mark your name on the chart. On the last day of crabbing, the member boasting the largest crab will win a dinner for two at the Harbormaster Seafood and Spirits! They cut our season short this year, so let's make the best of what we got!

Kayaking

If your grandchildren will be visiting this summer, I would like to invite you to the Marina to enjoy our single and double kayaks. Show your grandchildren the magic of Port Ludlow on beautiful Ludlow Bay. Help them explore the beauty and scenery from a silent kayak. Witness up-close why so many seals, otters, eagles, great blue heron, and many other creatures make this their home. Cruise the pristine shoreline and enjoy seals and birdlife in a protected bay with no boat traffic over 5 MPH. Our stable one- and two-person Wilderness Systems kayaks are extremely seaworthy, comfortable and very easy to paddle. You begin your trip with a brief orientation; safety procedures and simple instruction on paddling will give you confidence for a fun, relaxed trip.

After a day of boating, meet your friends and fellow yachtsmen at the Harbormaster Seafood & Spirits Restaurant for Happy Hour, Monday through Friday, 3:00–5:30 p.m. Make it an evening and stay for dinner and enjoy the nightly dinner specials or perhaps a Prime Rib Dinner served Friday–Sunday. And if you are in the mood for entertainment, don't miss some great soft jazz featuring the Skip Morris Duo, on selected Saturday

Coast Guard Auxiliary's Classes Take Break

The "How to" boating series, sponsored by Flotilla 41 of the U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary (USCG), takes a hiatus during the months of July and August. The series continues with a class on weather on Wednesday, September 7.

The USCG's Advanced Coastal Navigation Course, Part I, continues throughout the summer with instruction on dead reckoning on Monday, July 11, 7:00–10:00 p.m., at the Fire Station. Cost is $10. In addition, participants pay a one-time charge of $35 for course materials covering the entire series.

Coast Guard Auxiliary

by John Reseck, Contributing Editor

"We die in training so you can live in battle." That is the Coast Guard Auxiliary (CGAUX) motto for the Seahawk exercises that will be held in August around Indian Island. What is "Seahawk?" It is an "all service" exercise including Navy, Army, Marine, Special Forces, Air Force and a few other agencies that we won't mention. The purpose of the exercise is to train the reserves on what to expect when they become deployed.

The trainers create scenarios that include everything from suicide attacks to multi units on-the-water attacks. The CGAUX furnishes the boats and manpower to create the “bad” people. We sneak in close and gather intelligence on their positions, and attack them in the middle of the night.

It is a lot of fun but in reality it is deadly serious. We do in fact “die in training so they have a better chance to survive in battle.” We give them every ration of crap we can think of. We “mouth off” to them, call them bad names, don’t do what they tell us to, and make their lives as difficult as possible. They in turn must respond in a manner that is firm, polite, and according to their “Rules of Engagement” for the area they are protecting.

There are a lot of guns fired (all blanks, of course, or we really would die), but everything must be within the rules. When we push them into the “kill zone,” they kill us. Better us than them. They learn how to control their temper no matter how badly we insult them, “Sticks and stones will break my bones, but names will never hurt me.”

They learn to be sure where their “security zones” are so they won’t fire on someone who is still outside of it and cause an international incident. As auxiliaries we feel good about not only helping these young warriors protect themselves in battle, but also protecting our grandchildren at home.

The CGAUX is always looking for people that want to be “part of the solution.” If that is you, call Sharon Reseck at 360 437-0351 or e-mail her at jsreseck@cablespeed.com.

Do You have Used Inkjet/Toner Cartridges?

by Mark Garcia

Go to the Bay Club to get your mailers to return your used ink jet cartridges. You will find these bags in a display next to the box for used glasses. As you enter the Club please look towards the right corner table at the entrance. Just place your used cartridge in the mailer, seal it and drop it in a mailbox. There is a bar code on the bag which identifies the Port Ludlow Computer Club as the organization who receives the credit for recycling. Call Mark Garcia at 437-8059 if you have a laser toner cartridge to recycle.

We thank you for your support and will keep you posted on the success of this program. The PLCC’s intention is that a Chimacum graduate will have an opportunity to apply for a Technology Scholarship. The environment also comes out as a winner.

Tide Timber Trail

Dog Talk

by Kevin Earl, Director of Golf, Port Ludlow Golf Course

Communication

As the Director of Golf for Port Ludlow I use various methods to listen to our members, the visiting public, and outside-specialized experts to help improve the quality of the Golf Course. Recently some golfers may have felt shut out of the “Loop” and question whether management is listening.

All members have an opportunity to participate in some or all of these options:

1. Comment cards
2. Ladies’ Club meetings
3. Men’s Club meetings
4. Member surveys
5. Greens Committee meetings
6. Open door policy

These various methods provide me and our Department Managers with the framework to make decisions that will help reach our short- and long-term goals. When some groups are left out of the process, rumors get started and relationships are strained. All groups have access to these methods and I encourage each of you to take advantage of them.

Improving Your Game

Now that summer is finally here, your golf game may need a summer check-up. Stop by and visit one of our shop attendants to discuss Port Ludlow’s instruction options. Members and guests have several options that can help in all facets of your game.

1. Dave Ramsey, who specialized in instruction at the San Diego Golf Academy, can build a custom program to fit your needs.
2. Ted Wurtz offers weekend clinics that cover all facets of the game.
3. Robert Davies offers both individual and group sessions.

Computer video analysis is available by appointment. Watch yourself swing—this provides a valuable new way of learning and improving.

Rules of Golf

by Dave Ramsay

The Men’s Golf Association and I recently had a match against another Club. We played against them first on their course, and then on ours. This prompted several good questions concerning the Rules on advice (Rule 8). “Advice” is defined as any counsel or suggestion that could influence a player (that is not on the same team) in determining his play, the choice of club, or the method used in making a stroke. However, it is not a breach of this Rule to ask normal questions such as distance from one object to another object (such as from the tee to a hazard, or a certain tree, or the corner of a dogleg, or the middle of a green, etc). You can also ask whether distance markers are accurate, and you can even ask what club an opposing player used after you have both played your shots. Check Rule 8 and the Decisions book for several rulings on various situations.

GPS and Yardage Guides

Recently Port Ludlow became “Sky Golf GPS” enabled. This provides the player with the most accurate yardage available today. The handheld device, the same one seen on the infomercial, cannot be used during competition but during social golf can provide enhanced information and enjoyment during play.

New yardage guides that are common at many high-end resort facilities are being developed to help all players with yardages, and should be available this summer.

New Trail Open for Use

The most recent addition to our trail system starts at the Clubhouse, then wraps around the perimeter of our Timber Golf Course. It is now available for use. To complete the trail, two bridges have been installed to cross some newly found creeks. Come on out give it a try, there are some spectacular views—and dogs are welcome!

Clubhouse Update

Drawings are being put together and will hang in the Clubhouse to show what the new Clubhouse will look like. Start date of Monday, October 10, 2005, is still on target.

Keep your lawn chairs and marshmallows handy for the biggest bonfire in Port Ludlow.

Nifty Niners' July Schedule

by Beverly Browne

Carolyn Voss chaired a rules meeting of the Niners on June 2 where the patches of long grass on the Golf Course were discussed. The Niners, men and ladies, were vocal in their objections to the length and position of the grass and complained about lost balls and increased play time. A focus of complaint was Tide #2 where the long grass is not visible from the tee. Kevin Earl, Course manager, explained that three golf-course architects suggested that reduced mowing would improve the challenge and beauty of the course. According to Captain Loretta Close, management has decided to scale back some rough areas to accommodate play. A rule change that would allow a lateral drop out of deep grass onto a mowed area appears to be unnecessary.

Port Ludlow ladies will Rally for the Cure on Thursday, July 7, on Trail to benefit breast cancer research funding by the Susan B. Komen Foundation. A luncheon at the Bay Club follows the event. Thursday, July 14, golfers will compete in a four-person Stableford and have hamburgers at the Bay Club at noon. The men will cook. The Couple's Event on Thursday, July 21, at 3:00 p.m. is a Shotgun. Couples play Survivor and dine at the Beach Club after the game. On Thursday, July 28, the ladies participate in an exchange at Dungeness. They will car pool from Golf Course parking, meeting at 7:00 a.m. Other details will be announced later.

The Men's Niners play a Two-Man Scramble on Timber on Thursday, July 7, starting at 8:21 a.m. On Thursday, July 14, there will be an Individual Low Net Shotgun on Tide at 8:21 a.m. that will allow the men time to heat the grill for the Hamburger Bash. The Thursday, July 21, Couple's Shotgun at 3:00 p.m. is described above. Thursday, July 28, the men play a Shotgun Modified Mexican Standoff on Timber followed by a clinic and lunch.

Women's Golf Association (WGA)

by Debi Bozanich, Captain

We have several events scheduled for the month of July so please watch the bulletin board for the sign-up sheets.

Thursday, July 7, is the Rally For a Cure golf tournament to support the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation. The event leader is Sandie Yonke and she is coordinating all the activities for another successful day of golf fun with friends. A luncheon at the Bay Club will follow play. Special thanks go to QFC of Hadlock, Costco of Silverdale, Port Hadlock Vision Clinic, and Jefferson Healthcare for providing tee prizes to all the participants. And thank you, Port Ludlow Golf Club, for providing the golf carts. Assistance from these businesses will allow us to maximize our contributions to help fight breast cancer.

Sunday, July 10, will be another Couples Golf Tournament with a 3:00 p.m. shotgun followed by a potluck at the Beach Club. This event is our annual Jefferson HealthCare Auxiliary donation tournament. If you cannot play, please consider making a donation to help those in need at the hospital.

Monday, July 11, is "Play Day Away" and will be coordinated by Caryl Oros.

Tuesday, July 12, is our mid-year luncheon and General Meeting at the Bay Club following an 8:03 a.m. shotgun start.

Monday, July 18, Port Ludlow Golf Club will be the site for Teams of the Olympic Peninsula (TOP). Lucinda Thompson will be organizing our team players and coordinating tee times for other participating clubs.

Several WGA members will be competing in the Public Links Championship at McCormick Woods on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, July 25, 26 and 27. And finally, the Olympic Peninsula Invitational will be held at Dungeness on Tuesday, July 26.

Fast Facts on the Medicare Population

by Dave Aldrich, Senior Information and Assistance

1. Medicare covers 41 million Americans, including 35 million people over age 65 and 6 million people under age 65 who have Medicare based on disability or end-stage renal disease. The total Medicare population is projected to grow to 46 million in 2010, 61 million in 2020 and 77 million in 2030.
2. Roughly four in ten people with Medicare have incomes below 150 percent of the federal poverty level, which in 2004 was $13,965 for singles and $18,735 for couples. Nearly 65 percent of people with Medicare had incomes beneath $25,000 in 2002.
3. On average, older Americans today spent approximately 22 percent of their disposable income on health care costs. In 1970, the typical older adult spent 11 percent of his/her income on health care costs.
4. In 2002, Americans paid 67 percent more than Canadians did for patented drug products.
5. Whereas older Americans' Social Security checks increased by 2.6 percent in 2002, the average price on drugs used by older Americans increased by 6 percent.

Remember Senior Information and Assistance offers free services to people 60 and over. Free consultation and assistance is also provided to families caring for older loved ones. Call 385-2552 for further information.

An Easy Way to Benefit Museums

ShopforMuseums.com is a museum fundraising site that allows you to shop with some of your favorite retailers to benefit museums nationwide. If you already shop online, why not benefit a museum while you're at it?

First, log in, select the museum you wish to receive a donation, make your electronic purchases and the rest is automatic. The accumulated donations are distributed quarterly and there is no cost to you or the museum. The percentage each retailer donates to the designated museum is listed on the Shopping Directory.

If you would like to help the Jefferson County Historical Society (JCHS), click on Washington and Port Townsend, and the museum name will pop up.

Multi-Generational Boat Tours

If you're looking for activities that kids, parents and grandparents can do together, Jefferson County Parks and Recreation has a suggestion that will get people out on the water with their friends and neighbors. The Menzies project boat, the Mary Beth, offers eco-tourism and local history as well as an underwater video camera. She will sail to Oak Bay or Killisut Harbor on Wednesday, July 27. The trip is $36, so book early because it will sell out at these group rates. For more information call Matt Tyler at 385-2221.
